City Wins St. Louis College Appeal High Court Sets Aside Assessment Halved By Judge

All Four Sitting Justices Agree in Ordering It Referred Back to Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald

Chief Justice Macdonald Would Have Allowed Appeal in Toto; Meaning of "Actual Value" Basis of Argument

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 10.—The City of Victoria has succeeded in the Court of Appeal in an appeal from Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, who reduced the assessment of St. Louis College from $50,000 to $25,000 in the judgment of the court handed down here to-day.

The case raised for the first time since the Municipal Act was amended in 1927 the issue for determination as to the meaning of "actual value" in section 212.

C. N. O'Halloran, counsel for the Catholic Bishop of Victoria, submitted that actual value meant the market value. H. A. Maclean, K.C., counsel for the City of Victoria, contended that structural cost should be considered in arriving at a figure for actual value.

The court of appeal set aside the assessment, and ordered a reference back to Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald. The appeal would have been allowed in toto by Chief Justice Macdonald, Mr. Justice Martin and Mr. Justice McPhillips agreed with reasons handed down by Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald.

ASSESSMENT STRUCTURE THREATENED

Mr. O'Halloran first placed his case before the Supreme Court here last fall. It resulted in Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald unexpectedly terminating the hearing by ordering the $50,000 assessment to be cut in half. He explained he did this as he considered the question should be determined by a higher court, and was too much for one judge.

The appeal was argued here before the Court of Appeal last month by Mr. Maclean and, replied to by Mr. O'Halloran.

The progress of the case was watched with much interest by municipal officials, not only in Victoria, but in other parts of the province, as a final victory for St. Louis College, gaining the 50 per cent assessment claim would have undermined the whole assessment structure of most of the municipalities.

FLIER JOURNEYS OVER SAHARA

Algiers, March 10.—Victor Smith was reported this afternoon as traveling east on his way to Gao, French West Africa, in the course of his attempt to break the record for the flight from England to the Cape.

Smith took off from Beni Abbas and had a flight of about 1,000 miles to his next stop. When he reaches Gao he will have approximately 3,200 miles and the Sahara Desert behind him on his 6,200-mile journey.

He started from London yesterday morning in his attempt to better Mrs. Amy Johnson's record of four days, six hours and fifty-five minutes.

Year's Delay In Cuts For Schools Is Urged

Vancouver Asks B.C. Government to Postpone Enforcement of Lower Schedule of Grants

Provincial authorities to-day received a joint petition from the Vancouver City Council and school board asking one-year's postponement in application of the proposed revised scale of provincial grants toward school teachers' salaries.

Falling postponement for a year, the petition urges the government make a supplementary grant for Vancouver and other cities, which, it is argued, are penalized by the proposal to base grants on assessment.

The new scale will reduce Vancouver's grant from $60,000 per teaching month to $37,000. It also fixes arbitrary salaries of $780, $1,100 and $1,200, which are much lower than the rates now paid in the city.

COUPONS CAN BE DUPLICATED

Private Bills Committee Takes Immediate Steps to Correct Situation

Victoria's Bill Passes Through With Little Discussion; One Change

Some of the printing shops of British Columbia are printing for municipalities debentures and interest coupons which could be duplicated in any other printing shop in the province it was learned in the private bills committee of the Legislature this morning.

After comments on the opportunities this held out for unscrupulous persons to have duplicates printed and realize on them it was decided to bring the matter to the attention of the municipal committee with the object of having an amendment made to the Municipal Act which would make it necessary to either have the coupons signed or lithographed.

The Victoria private bill which passed through the committee with a slight change along these lines sought to legalize borrowings of $227,000 for the purpose of issuing debentures and applying the proceeds towards the redemption of serial debentures due during 1933. No objections had been offered to the bill City Solicitor Prince informed the committee. The powers of the mayor had been approved but the city had been instructed that approval must be secured for the signature of the mayor in office at the time they were issued on debentures and interest coupons.

In view of the danger of duplication referred to the words printed or engraved were struck out of the bill leaving the wording "written or lithographed."

TROOPS MOVE IN AUSTRIA

Dictator Takes Measures to Prevent Jobless Making Hunger Marches

Vienna, March 10.—Federal troops and gendarmes occupied Neunkirchen, near the industrial center of Wiener-Neustadt, this morning after a report that unemployed were organizing a hunger march from Territz.

Machine guns and barbed wire were placed across the highways.

Up to 1 p.m., however, no serious clashes were reported. A group of 1,200 marchers was easily dispersed.

The situation in Vienna was quiet. Most of the morning newspapers did not even mention the presence of troops in Vienna. The newspapers, however, are under strict regulation.

OUT OF HIDING

Oklahoma City, March 10. (Associated Press).—One of twenty years' hiding came a $100 gold certificate to the county treasurer's office here in payment of taxes. "I saved it for emergencies," the taxpayer explained, referring to the United States bank holiday.

New British Stamp Issue Protested

Associated Press
Buenos Aires, March 10.—The newspaper La Prensa to-day requested the Argentine government to protest to the international postal authorities at Bern, Switzerland, against a British issue of Falkland Islands centennial stamps.

Argentina, the newspaper explained, never has relinquished claim to the Falklands, which on Argentine maps are called the Malinas.

The publication urged Argentina charge letters thus stamped a double rate.

COURT TO RULE ON HIS FINANCING

King for a Day was Marion Coles Harman, above, British financier, and promoter of silk, gold, oil and rubber enterprises. He bought and "ruled" Lundy's Island in the Bristol Channel off England. Arrived the other day in London, he was charged with conspiracy to defraud, he is now waiting trial.

HITLER WIDENS HIS CONTROL

Nazi Lieutenant Takes Over Duties of Saxon Cabinet, Resigned

Dresden, Germany, March 10.—The Saxon cabinet resigned to-day and Baron Manfred von Killinger, National Socialist leader, took over the executive duties in the state and appointed his representatives to the ministerial offices.

BADEN CABINET RESIGNS

Karlsruhe, Germany, March 10.—The cabinet of the state of Baden resigned to-day.

CLASHES IN MADRID

Madrid, March 10.—A large group of students and laborers staged a demonstration against Fascism and Hitlerism before the Italian and German embassies here to-day.

Amalgamation Of Railways Fades As Political Question

Liberal Party Firmly For Maintenance of C.N.R., King Tells Commons; Bennett Agrees to Insert Clause in Bill Barring C.N.R.-C.P.R. Amalgamation

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 10.—Amalgamation of Canada's two railway systems is not in prospect. In fact it may be definitely ruled out as a matter of practical politics because both Premier Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader in the Commons, have declared their opposition to it.

Apart from that the two party leaders found little to agree on when they addressed the Commons yesterday afternoon and evening. Mr. King introduced an amendment to the railway bill, up for second reading, to safeguard parliamentary control over the Canadian National Railways and guard against amalgamation. Mr. King also declared labor should be represented on the board of trustees of the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Bennett described the amendment as a "lecture in responsible government" which had no place in the bill. He agreed, however, to have inserted in the bill a clause expressly prohibiting amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

JONES REPORTS LATEST DEFICIT

Nine Months' Figure and Financial Firm's Estimate For Year Wide Apart

Contrasts between the figure of $3,500,000 given by E. A. Ames & Co. as the amount British Columbia's deficit will be at the end of the fiscal year, March 31, 1933, and the $712,311 shown in the comptroller-general's statement for the first nine months of the year were drawn in the Legislature yesterday.

Presenting the statement, Hon. J. W. Jones mentioned the $712,311 deficit. "Is the report of Ames & Co. of $3,500,000 for the year ending March 31 correct?" T. D. Pattullo asked.

March 31 had not arrived yet, he was told. The statement was not authorized, he was also informed.

The statement showed revenues for the nine months, April 1 to December 31, 1932, amounted to $15,029,523. Expenditures during the same period were $15,741,234. Estimated expenditures were given as $24,693,671.

The total appropriation for unprovided items in expenditures is $542,471, which was over-expended by $28,544.

The sum of $746,234 was spent under special warrants.

Over-expenditures regarding election include $3,197 for administration of justice; $3,403 for Department of Education; correspondence courses; $1,724.05, general office of the Department of Finance; and $4,211.11, agent-general's Office in England.

POUND $4.18 AT MONTREAL

Montreal, March 10.—The pound sterling opened here to-day at $4.15, an advance of two cents. At noon it was $4.18. The pound was strong in Paris at 85.35 francs. In Canadian dollars the franc opened at 4.69 cents, down a slight fraction.

Hearing Fixed For To-morrow

Magistrate to Hear Evidence on Murder Charge Against Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lovatt

Accused Woman Sleeps Soundly in Jail; Husband Sends Candies

While prosecution officials were making final preparations for the case, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Lovatt, held on a charge of murdering Charles A. Coulson, to-day were preparing themselves for the ordeal of facing a crowded courtroom at the preliminary hearing, set for 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

After the first shock of their arrest, the accused couple have become more composed while waiting in their cells for the hearing. It was learned this morning.

Mrs. Lovatt confided to the police-woman that she had slept soundly her first night in jail. She does not sleep much, she said, but she has not much chance to talk to him since the shooting at their Milton Street bungalow Sunday evening. At the public last night they exchanged glances, but he did not sit with her.

To while away the hours under detention Mrs. Lovatt has played cards with the police-woman, but does not care for reading and refused the loan of books.

The crowd at the hearing to-morrow will be limited by the size of the courtroom to about 150.

The crown will have about ten witnesses, it is understood, and one of the highlights of the evidence will be the death declaration made by Coulson.

TO TRANSACT BUSINESS

New York, March 10.—Some of the leading Wall Street banks this afternoon said they were momentarily expecting permission from the New York Federal Reserve Bank to reopen for business to-morrow.

TWELVE HURT IN TORONTO BLAST

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 10.—Eleven firemen and a chemist were taken to a hospital this afternoon after a bombing chemical had exploded in the cellar of a factory on Bond Street. It was thought none was in a critical condition. All were scalded about the hands, heads and faces.

CONFERENCE PLANS

Washington, March 10. (Associated Press).—Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, said to-day as soon as the banking difficulties of the United States had been settled the administration would begin diplomatic conversations with various nations to form a basis for the success of the coming World Economic and Monetary Conference.

Ban on Foreign Stage Stars Would Wreck Hollywood Prestige

Foreign film stars are essential to Hollywood, not only if its film products are to hold an international appeal, but even if they are to hold their appeal for the home folks in these days of depression and increasing difficulties in extracting theatre admission prices from the pockets of the people.

This is the conclusion the film industry has come to as a result of the move of some persons to ban foreigners in the hope that the home folks would get all the jobs. Parts of the industry are that under such a ban there would be few jobs of any kind left in the industry.

How necessary a continuous stream of fresh and foreign stars is to vitalize the industry is told in a feature article to be published in the Saturday magazine section of The Victoria Daily Times to-morrow.

Other features of the Saturday magazine section will include:

How an all-woman group of brains has invaded the theatre world and is making its influence felt.

How the speech-of-the-month prize goes to George M. Cohen, the actor, who in "Pigskin and People," talks for one hour and a half.

How a dancing girl has penetrated to unfamiliar parts of Russia to get rare films.

Industry sees new type of houses as aid to general revival.

To Stratosphere From World's Fair

PROF. A. PICCARD

Chicago, March 10.—Prof. Auguste Piccard, Belgian scientist who soared high above the Alps last summer in a balloon seeking data in the stratosphere on cosmic rays, is contemplating a similar expedition this summer from the grounds of the world's fair in Chicago.

"My object will be to study cosmic rays. I have no theories about them. What I am trying to get is facts," he said to-day. A scientific observer can not have theories. Otherwise he is handicapped from the start.

WINNIPEG HAS BANK HOLD-UP

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, March 10.—A lone armed bandit entered the Main Street and Selkirk Avenue branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada just before closing time to-day, held up H. R. Nicholls, the teller, and escaped on foot with about $500 in cash.

NEW CABINET IN GREECE IS SWORN

Athens, March 10.—Premier Panagiotis Tsaldaris, Popular or Royalist party leader, who pledged allegiance to the republic last night, and his new cabinet, took the oath of office to-day. Tsaldaris was elected in last Sunday's election of a new assembly over former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos, but he was prevented momentarily from becoming premier when General Nicholas Plastiras established a dictatorship.

TOO POOR FOR BANKRUPTCY

Milwaukee, March 10. (Associated Press).—A survey revealed about a dozen Milwaukee citizens cannot afford to go broke because they lack immediate funds with which to finance bankruptcy petitions.

Man Who Tried to Kill Roosevelt in Miami to Die For Slaying of Mayor Cermak of Chicago

Associated Press
Miami, Fla., March 10.—Giuseppe Zangara, zealot and assassin, to-day was sentenced to death in the electric chair for the murder of Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago in his futile attempt to kill President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Sentence was passed at 10:31 a.m. by Circuit Judge Uly O. Thompson, who read the decision from a prepared statement ending with the words, "and may God have mercy on your soul."

There was a flurry in the courtroom after sentence was passed as Zangara denounced Judge Thompson and shouted, "You give me electric chair. I'm no afraid that chair. You're one of capitalists. You is crook man, too. Put me in electric chair. I no care."

RUSHED OUT

Deputies rushed Zangara from the courtroom as he shrieked the last sentence. Spectators were held in the courtroom until after the prisoner had been removed to the elevator carrying him to jail.

Under the Florida law the execution date will be fixed by the governor of the state and officials of the state penitentiary at Ralston.

Judge Thompson's sentence ordered Zangara be confined in the Dade County jail until his removal to Ralston.

Plans To Raise Revenue Drafted, But M.P.'s Learn Rhodes Postpones Speech

Date of Budget Address Expected to Be Announced Next Monday; Till To-day Anticipation Was Minister of Finance Would Speak Next Tuesday; News on Banking Developments in U.S. Analyzed in Ottawa

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 10.—While no official pronouncement was made, it was generally believed to-day there was little likelihood the budget would be presented to the Commons next Tuesday as had been expected. Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, who was indisposed the last few days, was expected to-day, but it is understood no time had been lost on budget preparation and only the uncertainty of the United States banking situation stood in the way of a definite announcement.

The general opinion to-day was that the budget date would be announced in the House Monday.

Many Banks In U.S. About To Reopen

EIGHT DAYS
EARN $250,000

Emergency Employment Campaign Soars Past Half-way Mark

Fifty More Volunteers Required to Close Drive Next Week

Registration of more than $250,000 in pledges for the Greater Victoria Emergency Employment Plan has been attained. Alfred Carmichael, campaign manager, announced this afternoon. Passing the half-way mark towards the objective of $500,000 was highly gratifying to the energetic volunteers who carried the burden of the campaign through the first few days, he said.

"The total of $250,000 has been secured in only eight days of actual field work," Mr. Carmichael commented, pointing out that the drive opened on Tuesday of last week, and was not pressed on Saturday. The results reported to-day included only a part of yesterday's results, he added, forecasting that the result of the next week's work would be even more satisfactory.

Zangara Sentenced To Electric Chair

Proclamation Issued
Less than two hours before the original restriction would become effective last night, President Roosevelt used the power Congress had given to him yesterday by extending the bank holiday "until further proclamation."

That meant that for the time being banks could do only what they had been doing the last few days—enough business to prevent food shortages or keep people from going payless.

Early to-day Secretary Woodin announced the emergency banking act rushed through Congress yesterday and giving extraordinary powers to the President "makes possible the opening of banks on a sound basis, backed by an adequate supply of currency."

Later to-day the President's new order came.

AGAINST HOARDERS

Washington, March 10.—The treasury department to-day turned over to the United States Department of Justice the question of what action shall be taken against persons who have hoarded gold in the emergency.

SEATTLE BANKS

Seattle, March 10.—Washington state bankers marked time to-day, awaiting word from Washington for guidance as they continued on the limited service to patrons started several days ago.

Seattle banks dropped plans to issue clearing house certificates and expressed the opinion such a plan was disproved by federal officials, although they were without a statement on the subject.

"You know as much about it as we do" was the stock answer of Seattle bankers to questions concerning plans for opening or the governments interpretation of a "sound bank."

They were united in saying most of the banks of the state were anxious to open for business.

MONTREAL RAIL WORKER KILLED

Canadian Press
Montreal, March 10.—A blizzard that swept across the Humber or St. Lawrence yesterday cost one life. It was shown to-day at the inquest on the death of Giuseppe Distalco, twenty, an employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Distalco was loading an engine tender with coal. A sudden powerful gust of wind blew him from his insecure footing on top of the tender and he fell to the ground, fracturing his skull.

MORATORIUM GIVEN SOLDIER SETTLERS

Interest Payments Lifted For Year, Ottawa Announces; B.C. Is Interested

Associated Press
Ottawa, March 10.—A year's moratorium on interest payments by soldier settlers will be put into effect by the Dominion Government, in a resolution placed to-day on the order paper of the House of Commons, Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, announced a series of relief measures for soldier settlers.

The idea behind the legislation will be to help settlers who have signed their intention of paying their indebtedness. About 15,000 settlers will be affected, most of them living in western Canada.

In the first place, the government's plans call for a relaxation of interest and amortization payments due October 1, 1932. If a settler paid all or any portion of that indebtedness, it will be applied as a prepayment on his total debt to the Dominion.

NEXT OCTOBER'S PAYMENTS
Additional credit will be given on payments due next October. For instance, if $150 is due then, the debt will be cancelled by the payment of $75. The Dominion will credit $1 to the settler for every dollar he pays.

The Dominion's lien on farm equipment will be removed, making it possible for settlers to trade in their old implements when purchasing new ones. In 1930, the Dominion lien on settlers' livestock was removed, the idea being to free the settlers as far as possible from commercial shackles.

The Labor Minister's resolution is preliminary to the introduction of a bill, implementing its recommendations. It will not be discussed until next week.

The proposed moratorium on interest payments by soldier settlers was commended by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, B.C. Minister of Lands this morning as being along the lines of the policy followed in this province for the last three years.

Settlers in thousands of instances have had difficulty in meeting payments due to the British Columbia Government under land settlement.

PETITION!

TO THE HONORABLE, THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF CANADA, IN PARLIAMENT ASSEMBLED:

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS of the Great Dominion of Canada, being a free and independent people, in whom resides the right of self determination, do hereby vigorously protest against the action of the Radio Commission of Canada in censoring or attempting to censor and exclude from public broadcast radio lectures on matters pertaining to the Bible and of public interest, and particularly the lectures of J. F. Rutherford, pertaining to divine prophecy. We have faith in the Bible and the Word of God, and that it was written for the instruction of man. Many sincere persons claim that the Bible prophecies apply particularly to our day and bear direct relationship to the present world distress, and disclose God's remedy for relief. We are entitled to hear these questions publicly discussed free from all censor, otherwise our freedom is taken away. Those who object, or who may be offended by such lectures, may turn their radio dials and decline to hear.

We therefore demand that the Dominion Parliament take immediate action removing from the Radio Commission the power to censor, hinder or prevent such lectures by radio and that the people be left free to determine what they may or may not hear. Men of world-wide repute and eminently qualified to explain the Bible, such as we believe Rutherford is, can be helpful to the people and we demand that our radio stations be permitted to publicly broadcast his lectures. The question is, Shall the people continue to enjoy freedom or shall a few men deprive them of their God-given rights?

SALARY CUT Bank Requests City POWER ASKED To Meet Debentures

Roosevelt Urges Congress to Authorize Reductions in Government Pay Cheques
Reported Saving of $500,000,000 Planned in Federal and Veterans' Allowances

Associated Press
Washington, March 10.—President Roosevelt asked the United States Congress to-day for authority to reduce veterans' compensation and government salaries, to take effect immediately.

Pointing to a prospective Treasury deficit for this fiscal year of $1,200,000,000, the President demanded emergency action for balancing the budget.

"The very stability of our government itself is concerned," he told Congress, "and when that is concerned the benefits of some must be subordinated to the needs of all."

"When a great danger threatens our national security it is my duty to advise Congress of the way to preserve it. In doing so I must not only be fair but to the many. It is in this spirit I appeal to you."

"If Congress chooses to invest me with this responsibility it will be exercised in a spirit of justice to all, and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States."

$500,000,000 SAVING
Mr. Roosevelt in his message did not specify to what lengths he intended to go in asking veterans' allowances and government salaries if given the authority, but his advisers estimated at $500,000,000 the amount he intended to save.

A bill to carry out the proposal of the President was gone over yesterday evening at the White House with congressional leaders and will be submitted immediately.

The measure would require the salary reductions take into account the cost of living and be limited to a total of 15 per cent, including the existing salary cut.

Permanently and totally disabled war veterans would be untouched. Also, veterans whose disability is traceable to service would be kept on the payroll. The President would be given full authority to fix the rates of compensation for all of the thousands of other veterans now receiving allowances who are not in those classes.

It is stated the President's plan calls for an estimated cut of between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 in the annual $1,000,000,000 that now goes from the government to the veterans.

On the salary slash, the present law reducing pay by 8 1/3 per cent, was a tough system, it is to be wiped out and a new deal made.

MANY WIVES TO LEGISLATORS
Thus the new United States Congress squared away to-day for its first intensive dispute.

Representatives, even before the second brief and momentous message in as many days reached the Capitol for reading, were deluged with telegrams of protest from veterans' organizations against granting Mr. Roosevelt the powers sought.

Notices of what was impending had been sent to American Legion posts throughout the country by legislative agents of the organization here, with suggestions to wire objections.

A big scrap loomed with congressional leaders set on having the latest extraordinary bill go through the committee routine—a process not respected in enacting yesterday's banking law. But Democratic leaders expressed confidence ultimately the President would win.

NEW WORKS
President Roosevelt saved until to-morrow his other promised message, looking to a $500,000,000 bond issue for public works to make employment.

Montreal, March 10.—Eleven convicts from the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary near here appeared before Judge Maurice Tremblay to-day to answer charges ranging from property damage to attempted murder in connection with riots at the institution last November. All pleaded not guilty and were remanded until next week.

New Move To-day in Alberta City's Financial Tangle; Request Goes to Federal Capital

Canadian Press
Calgary, March 10.—Calgary to-day formally requested the Dominion Government to give the city sufficient Canadian gold to retire $781,000 worth of Calgary debentures held by the Royal Bank of Canada.

Yesterday the Royal Bank asked the city to meet the bonds, which matured January 1, in Canadian gold, with interest at 5 per cent up to the time the gold was delivered at Montreal.

If the Dominion administration approves Calgary's request, the city would be relieved of paying United States exchange on more than half of the $2,385,000 city bond issues which matured at the beginning of the year in New York.

When the bonds matured Calgary decided payment would be made in Canadian dollars only, claiming it was not legally bound to pay in United States currency.

The Royal Bank of Canada did not present its bonds for payment in New York when Calgary refused to pay United States exchange, but later decided to demand Canadian gold.

To date $341,000 of the total issue has been redeemed in Canadian money and $5,185 in United States gold coin has been offered to the Maiden Trust Company of Maiden, Mass., for bonds held by that firm. These, $1,019,000 to be met.

French Seek British Endorsement of Embargo on Any European Aggressor

Paris, March 10.—Chiefs of the British and French governments explored the deadlock disarmament situation to-day in search of an acceptable modification of the French security schemes in the face of fear of a possible re-armament by Germany.

Premier MacDonald and Premier Daladier and their foreign ministers, Sir John Simon and Joseph Paul-Boncour, met at the War Ministry for all-day conversations before entraining to-night for Geneva.

While the French were worried over what they regarded as intimations of the new Hitler government that it would re-arm despite peace-treaty provisions forbidding such action, the British sought to bring about a project for approval by the disarmament conference.

British endorsement of a new French plan for an embargo on any European aggressor was believed sought to-day.

BIG FUNERAL IN CHICAGO

Thousands Honor Late Mayor Anton Cermak

Associated Press
Chicago, March 10.—A white stone mausoleum with the single inscription "Cermak" became Chicago's focal point of interest to-day for 46 marked the final resting place for its late mayor, Anton J. Cermak.

Prior to the funeral procession to the mausoleum in the National Bohemian Cemetery, the city witnessed the most impressive funeral in its history, with uncounted thousands attending.

The stadium was the scene. There Governor Henry Horner, a Jewish rabbi, a Methodist Episcopal minister and a Roman Catholic priest officiated.

A stream of humanity—estimated at 6,000 hourly—had flowed haltingly past the body as it lay in state at the city hall.

QUANTITY OF CURRENCY
Washington, March 10.—When and how much new currency will be spread through the United States were among the paramount questions to-day for which Treasury officials yet lacked definite answers.

The "when," however, was one of the reasons President Roosevelt extended the banking holiday. The new money will be available when the banks reopen.

"How much" depended entirely on the amount of government obligations, drafts, bills of exchange and bankers' acceptances traded by the twelve Federal Reserve banks for the new currency.

The Bureau of Engraving has been working twenty-four hours a day turning out new currency money.

Without doubt, the amount finally issued and put forward as a revitalizing monetary transaction will be more than $2,000,000,000. The Federal Reserve system will be the agency by which it will be started on its mission of booming business.

With this as money circulating, the early plans of many clearing houses to issue scrip have been, for the most part, shelved.

"Smaller campaigns in other communities have required six weeks of time for complete coverage of the territory involved. It was hardly expected that the Victoria effort could be finally closed within two weeks of its inception. That meant only nine days of actual field work," Mr. Carmichael commented.

He announced that fifty additional workers, to be known as "mopping-up" squads, would be welcomed for next week's effort. A large number of good prospects had been discovered by previous work, and many more were believed good results could be secured by tactical negotiation.

In addition there were a number of good districts for which the new squads were being assigned. These areas had been assigned had failed to implement their promises of telephone questions as to whether canvassers were being paid. Such was not the case, "all the field work being done by volunteers," Mr. Carmichael explained.

While many volunteers had failed to make any showing at all, and others had limited their aid to distributing leaflets, a number of the canvassers had shown surprising efficiency and persistence, Mr. Carmichael said.

In the Fairview district J. T. Galloway personally secured fifty-seven pledges for expenditures totaling $15,900. Late last week he accepted a team captaincy, and his Fairview group reported 134 undertakings worth $24,000.

New York, March 10.—Gold was hot to-day—sizzling hot.

It burned fingers, seared consciences and stung hoarders into sudden action.

By the thousands, all over the United States, they scurried to banks to purge themselves of the yellow stuff which, the government has decreed, will be a passport to prison.

In vanity bags, steel chests, trousers pockets and armored cars it poured in—stacks of double eagles, $5 pieces that dangled on last Yuletide's trees, and big bars of bullion.

Chinchow, Manchuria, March 10.—Japanese army headquarters announced troops under Major-Gen. Tadashi Kawahara had completed occupation of Kupeikow, Great Wall gateway to Peking from Jehol province, at 2.30 p.m. to-day. A battle with Chinese defenders had been going on inside the city.

EXTENSION DISCUSSED
Tokio, March 10.—A heavy battle between Chinese and Japanese forces within the walled city of Kupeikow was reported to-day as the Japanese considered extending operations into north China proper in order to take that northern gateway to Peking.

A dangerous situation developed, with the Chinese strongly reinforced in that area, and apparently still holding the pass despite earlier reports the Japanese had occupied the city at noon Wednesday.

WOULD NEGOTIATE
The Japanese Foreign Office instructed the Japanese legation at Peking to attempt to negotiate the withdrawal of the Chinese troops from Kupeikow. Failing in this, a Japanese spokesman said Japan might seek the good offices of the foreign diplomats in Peking to persuade the Chinese to withdraw, thus obtaining "the necessity" of an extension of operations to north China.

The Foreign Office spokesman estimated there were 50,000 first-class Chinese troops in the Kupeikow district. Two divisions were reported to be crack troops sent northward by Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, the military ruler dominating the Nationalist Government at Nanking.

CHANG IN COMMAND
Peking, China, March 10.—Resignation of Marshal Chang Hsiang-shan as military governor of north China was accepted to-day and Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, generalissimo of all Chinese troops, took over full command in that territory.

Chiang signaled his new command by throwing one division into the battle this morning outside Kupeikow and the Great Wall passageway where the Japanese have driven in their conquest of Jehol province.

Vancouver, March 10.—Search for two men who beat and abducted a United States federal officer, leaving him tied to a tree near the Oregon-California state line, shifted to Vancouver and its environs to-day when S. A. Emerick of the United States service arrived and requested co-operation of Canadian police.

It is believed the two men who abducted F. E. Ballinger, heard back from Oregon and may have crossed the line into Canada. United States authorities believe the men made their way back to Seattle, purchased a light car, and headed north.

Associated Press
Seattle, March 10.—Cuts and bruises and physically exhausted, E. L. Ballinger, United States customs patrol officer operating near the Canadian line, was recovering to-day from a brutal abduction attack by two smugglers who took him "for a ride."

He returned here yesterday evening by plane from Medford, Oregon, after he had been found yesterday handcuffed to a tree near the Oregon-California line.

"Ballinger is a good officer and a reliable one," said Collector of Customs George D. Hubbard. "There is something big behind this and we are going after it."

HIGHWAY ATTACK
Ballinger declared two narcotic runners had attacked him last Wednesday about thirty miles from the British Columbia line after he had ordered them to stop their automobile, the arrival of which he had been expecting.

He was beaten into insensibility, trussed and thrown into the rumble seat of a small coupe. He became conscious near Kalama, he said. The car was driven at high speed throughout the day and night. "Finally the driver stopped near the California line. The two men offered the federal agent $2,000 if he would 'forget' the case. The alternative, he said, was death.

The narcotic runners, he declared, finally decided to handoff him near the line, and they lined him to a tree after again beating him. They placed a bottle of milk ten feet away.

The officer was found yesterday by L. Oiler, Hornbrook, Calif., farmer, who heard cries from the woods. He investigated and found the man and effected his release.

INTENSIVE SEARCH
All state police in southern Oregon were joined by county and city police in a patrol of all highways in search of the two narcotic operators. The customs agent said they were driving a coupe with a blue body and tan top. He said the machine carried three sub-machine guns, three or four rifles and that each of the men had an automatic pistol. About 500 pounds of narcotics was stored in the car. He said the men were exceedingly eager to get to San Francisco.

The agent indicated he knew the names of both the men sought. One, he said, was called "Manning." He is about thirty-five years old, tall and is described as a "handsome blond." He of the province. City officials, however, explained that city payments would not be much affected, because if the assessment were cut in half in accordance with the test judgment of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, the municipal tax rates would automatically rise, doubling itself automatically to make up the required revenue total.

The city officials said that in the long run property owners would not gain as the volume of taxes at the end of the adjustments would be the same and there would only be a lot of expense and bother.

In the case of some municipalities, it was explained, considerable expense and trouble would be involved as municipalities which have a maximum tax mill rate set by the government, would be faced with the necessity of going before the municipal committee of the Legislature for amendments to their charter, raising the mill rate limit so they could collect sufficient revenue to carry on.

Constipation gets its grip on a person almost unawares. It often starts with such little things. Headaches. Lethargy. Bad complexion. Unpleasant breath. If unchecked, it may seriously impair your health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this danger by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of iron for the blood.

Biological tests demonstrate that the "bulk" in bran is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than taking unpleasant patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

FOR ANY PAIN

Have you ever found any quicker relief than this?

Anyone can take Aspirin, for doctors have declared these tablets perfectly safe.

And there is no quicker form of relief for any pain.

It is well to remember these things when anyone tries to persuade you to try anything in place of these tablets.

Aspirin may be taken as often as there is any need of its comfort: to stop a headache, throw off a cold, drive away the pains from neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatism, lumbago, etc.

Whenever you take Aspirin you know you are going to get immediate results—and you know there will be no ill effects. You know what you are taking.

Why take chances on some form of relief which may not be as swift—may not be as safe? The new reduced price on bottles of 100 tablets has removed the last reason for ever experimenting with any substitute for Aspirin!

U.S. ABANDONS SPEAKEASY FIGHT

Hereafter Prosecutions Are to Be Left to Individual States

Associated Press.

Washington, March 10.—Henceforth the United States Government will concentrate "almost entirely" on liquor manufacturers and transporters to enforce prohibition, leaving speakeasy prosecutions to the states.

As announced by Amos W. Woodcock, enforcement director, the new plan puts into immediate effect the restrictions laid down by Congress to apply after July 1. This means no more wire tapping or purchase of liquor as evidence for prosecution by Woodcock.

Woodcock placed the decision on the grounds of economy, necessitated by the huge cuts in enforcement funds made by the last Congress. The orders were dated March 3, the day before the Roosevelt administration took office.

How the new set-up will affect states having no local enforcement acts remains to be seen. Woodcock said complaints against speakeasies hereafter would be referred to local authorities, in the main, and predicted more attacks on the sources of supply as a result.

Canada's exports of meats during 1932 were valued at $4,638,145, against $4,376,744 in the previous calendar year.

Amalgamation Of Railways Fades As Political Question

PLEBISCITE SUGGESTION

The debate was featured by an intimation from the Prime Minister that the Canadian people may be given an opportunity to decide by plebiscite at the next general election whether or not they are in favor of the two Canadian systems being amalgamated. Mr. Bennett informed the House he had given much thought to the question of whether or not the honest and proper method to pursue would be to have such a plebiscite.

With further discussion of the railway bill slated for to-day, the expectation is the debate on second reading will end early next week. The committee stage will follow and before long the measure will be passed. STUDY NEEDED

In opening his address Mr. King said he found much in the measure to which he could subscribe. He believed, however, it required considerable examination and explanation.

It appeared to him the power given to the board of trustees far transcended that which had been held by the board of directors of the Canadian National.

Removal of the Canadian National from politics was a good thing as long as such action was consistent with the control Parliament must exercise over the property of the nation.

Mr. King said he thought the measure should be taken in closing the door to one abuse, it was not thrown open to others. Parliament must not abdicate control in trying to do away with local political influence. He was not sure the bill as drafted did not do away with the rights of Parliament to exercise its control.

For instance, he thought members from the Maritime Provinces were quite right in saying the provisions of the British North America Act in respect to railways must be safeguarded. He was not sure that, under the terms of the bill, the board of trustees would not have power to discontinue operation of the Intercolonial Railway. They might also, conclude it would be advisable to stop running the Hudson Bay Railway.

core hope that I may be the means of this House taking a united stand on this important measure.

If the amendment were rejected it would be a "reversal" of a declaration that kind of evidence "that there must be a sinister design which is not apparent on the face of the measure itself," he said.

If the reservations were unacceptable to the government he said he would vote against the bill, although in sympathy with its objects.

PREMIER SPEAKS

Premier Bennett declared the closing words of Mr. King "indicate clearly what was in his mind in the drafting of this amendment. When you speak of sinister motives or designs you are always sure there is something behind the kind of amendment such as this."

In a time such as this, said Mr. Bennett, to suggest there were sinister motives in the introduction of the present bill, and that these sinister motives were to be met by the introduction of the amendment just submitted, was beyond him.

Liberals were approaching the matter from the wrong angles, he said, and the position was not as suggested that these were properties of the people of Canada. "These are now the properties of the people who loaded the money to build them and under normal conditions they would take possession of them," he said.

Mr. Bennett wondered how intelligent men ever had thought it would be possible to create three transcontinental railway systems. He did not wish to mention the branch lines that had been built by the C.N.R. in some cases duplication of facilities had brought disaster to both systems.

"One doesn't want to have faith in one's country to the extent of fooling," the Prime Minister declared. If the population had increased 15,000,000, he said, it would not have justified three transcontinental systems.

QUESTION OF GUARANTEES

"We have received this a legacy," Mr. Bennett declared, "and I think we have the right to ask the honorable gentlemen opposite for some assistance in finding a solution."

Mr. Bennett said he had said often in the House and elsewhere, that the western provinces "must assume an enormous responsibility" for the guarantees they had given the Canadian Northern, without which guarantees such great development would not have been carried out.

"The government has fallen heir to a condition such as has never been known before," Mr. Bennett continued. It was forced to find a solution that would not be a compromise with the desires of the great majority of the people.

PEOPLE'S PROBLEM

"The government has no object in this bill," Mr. Bennett declared, "but to do what the Canadian people want. Any amendment that might be proposed would be discussed on its merits. The government would oppose it if it was not in the best interests of the people. This is a problem of the whole people."

DENIES TRICKERY

Amalgamation was guarded against in the bill, the Prime Minister said. "There is no thought of any trick to bring about something to which we have pledged ourselves not to do," said Mr. Bennett, referring to amalgamation. "There is no sinister design behind this measure to accomplish the amalgamation of these systems when parliament is opposed to it. In my opinion it would be impossible to bring about the amalgamation of these railways on any terms or conditions unless the people themselves had the opportunity to do so."

He had been asked, continued the Prime Minister, why three trustees should be appointed. It was the considered judgment of the royal commission that any number greater than three would be disastrous, he said.

SAYS EQUILIBRIUM NEEDED

Did anyone think, asked Mr. Bennett, that he did not understand the explanations he would have to make in western Canada with regard to the appointment of a board of three men who would live in Montreal? He appreciated, however, how absolutely necessary it was to secure that equilibrium, and for that reason he agreed there was the best number.

Suppose the number were increased to five, continued the Prime Minister, what would the reaction be throughout the country if the new plan was unsuccessful? The question would immediately be asked, "Why did you not follow the advice of the commission?" If the number were added to, it would be an acquiescence in the opinion that political, racial, religious and occupational considerations should prevail. Parliament now had to accept or reject the advice given to it by those who had studied this problem more carefully than any other body, and the recommendation of these men was three trustees.

CONTROL OF EXPENDITURES

Parliament would retain its control over Canadian National expenditures, the Prime Minister assured the House. An annual budget would be presented by the railway and not a dollar could be spent unless Parliament passed it. The railway problem was the most pressing one facing the Canadian people, said Mr. Bennett. Its magnitude was not understood. Outstanding securities of the Canadian National aggregated $1,300,000,000 and advances from the National Treasury added another $4,000,000,000.

"No soft words will solve this problem and no criticism of higher taxation will pay the bills that result from it," exclaimed Mr. Bennett. "If it were an ordinary enterprise, it would be declared bankrupt. But there could be no receivership where the provinces and the Dominion guaranteed securities. It is no good to say we will repudiate the obligations. To do so is to destroy the credit of this country."

The object of the board of trustees was to operate the system as it would be run under a receivership. First consideration would be given to restoring an equilibrium between incoming and outgoing money. It was useless for members to speak continually of the human element. "The human element is employees of the system only, if it continues to operate. If it does not operate, there will be no employment, and unless there is a very great improvement, the whole of the system cannot continue to operate," he said.

The government was willing, said Mr. Bennett, to insert a clause definitely forbidding amalgamation either directly or indirectly. But he intimated it could not accept the King amendment. He pressed that it be withdrawn.

C.N.R. AND POLITICS

In concluding his speech, Mr. Bennett said the trustees must be free from all political control if the railway was to be saved. "If government ownership is to succeed, it can only do so if it observes the same business maxims that are observed by private enterprises. It cannot succeed if those who administer it are to be dragged on to the one hand by their political friends, and attacked on the other hand by their political foes. It cannot succeed if its policies are made the football of parties."

SPEAKMAN'S VIEWS

If it should prove necessary to amalgamate the two great Canadian railway systems at any time in the future and set up a monopoly, that monopoly should be owned by the public, in the opinion of Alfred Speakman, U.P.A. Red Deer.

Mr. Speakman said a larger and more representative board of trustees for the C.N.R. might be more efficient. He also had some criticism of the proposed mode of their selection and of filling the vacancies. He thought the trustees should be committed to a policy of public ownership.

To Alberta member said he would support the bill on one condition, that the government reserve the right to criticize some features of it in committee.

INSURANCE RATE RISE DEFEATED

United Front of Agents Across Canada Given Credit

T. O. MacKay Honored

Because of the united front put from Victoria to Halifax by the Insurance Agents' Association, the 2 per cent surcharge on insurance policies recently planned, has fallen to the ground, according to the report from the Canadian Federation of Insurance Agents presented here this week to the meeting of the members of the Victoria District Fire Insurance Agents' Association in the Sons of England Hall.

It was decided to recommend to the executive committees of the four coast cities, which will meet in Victoria on March 17, that the Canadian Federation of Insurance Agents be supported by the local associations throughout Canada by a per capita assessment and that regional chairmen be appointed by each province.

Mr. MacKay reported that a committee from this association, together with D. A. S. McGregor, district manager of the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association, had attended a meeting of the City Council, when representatives of the Ratepayers' Association also appeared, to discuss insurance matters.

Mr. McGregor and James Forman spoke in regard to insurance conditions in Victoria, which had been during the last few years in insurance rates. Mr. McGregor offered to go into greater detail, if need be, with the council on the subject.

ELECTION FILLS VACANCIES

Mr. MacKay of Douglas, MacKay & Co. Limited, was elected as president of the association, to fill the vacancy for that office.

Frank Jordan of the B.C. Land & Investment Agencies Limited, was elected vice-president in place of Mr. MacKay.

Sam Clegg of Pemberton & Son, was elected to the executive committee to fill Mr. Jordan's place.

MUCH PROGRESS AMONG YOUNG

United Church Presbytery Hears Report of Religious Education Committee

The religious education committee of the United Church Presbytery of the United Church on Wednesday presented a review of progress to the spring session, held at First People's Training, Rev. M. W. Lee of Courtenay was convener, and the report was submitted by Rev. Bruce G. Gray, secretary.

Significant among the statistical reports given the Presbytery, said Mr. Gray, was the fact that 5,872 children were enrolled for religious instruction in fifty-eight United Church Sunday schools. Nearly 800 persons were registered in the various young people's organizations and 2,200 teen age girls and boys were following the programs of the C.G.I.T. and Tuxie groups.

Tribute was paid to the various conveners of departments: George Gordon, president of the Young People's Training, Rev. J. A. Watt, chairman of the Boys' Work Board; Mrs. A. J. Daniels, Girls' Work; Mrs. A. M. Naismith, Children's Work Council; and Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson, Vocation School. Reference was made to successful Sunday school conferences held at Courtenay, under the guidance of Rev. Mr. Lee and at Nanaimo, directed by Rev. Percy Bunt.

Much progress was noted in the work carried on during the summer through the daily vacation Bible schools held in Victoria, Gabriola Island and several pioneer sections. There were 178 children enrolled in the Metropolitan school, held in Victoria. The next for leadership training was to be becoming increasingly recognized, and more facilities were being provided. "We are fortunate in our splendid interdenominational cooperation in this city, where thirty-two congregations have combined in arranging for the community training school and 294 active Sunday school workers have received instructions," Mr. Gray said.

BOYS' PARLIAMENT

Referring to the Boys' Parliament, from the point of view of spiritual emphasis and inspirational value the tenth session, held this year, was the best, Mr. Gray considered. Greater emphasis has been placed on the young people's department and leaders were much concerned about the work among youth.

Attention was directed to the great responsibility placed upon the United Church of Canada, in which 78,000 young people were in a Dominion-wide organization. Trends in the thinking of youth revealed a greater desire to frankly face the social and economic situation and to study it in the light of Christ's teachings, the delegates were told.

Warm tribute was paid to Rev. E. R. McLean, M.A., D.D., general secretary of the Religious Education Council, in a resolution sponsored by Rev. T. H. Nuttall of Victoria and Rev. J. P. Westman of Salt Spring Island.

HUNT FOR TWO SKIERS IS ENDED

Fate of Chris and Joe Deam in Mountains East of Field Unknown

Canadian Press. Field, B.C., March 10.—Convinced the fate of Chris and Joe Deam, lost in the mountains east of here since February 24, will not be known until the summer sun melts stretches of snow fifty to eighty feet deep in the Dudeney Pass, searchers to-day quit their work and abandoned hope the brothers are still alive.

Never crossed by skiers before, Dudeney Pass beckoned the Deams brothers to be the first to win the honor. Reaching the treacherous stretch in the most dangerous time of the year, the two adventurers are believed to have been the victims of avalanches of snow and ice such as have hourly spilled down the sides of the pass in recent days.

Christian Haelet, one of the searchers, declared further exploration of the pass would be useless and virtual suicide for anyone venturing into it now. He is convinced the Deams brothers did not reach the top of the pass on their trip from Hector to Field. Use of an airplane in the search could do no more, he said, as those on skis had already done, he said.

Reports from Hector and the Yoho National Park administration showed the Deams brothers did not register before starting on their trip as mountain travel regulations require. Because of that, word they were missing had not been received until March 4, delaying the start of the search.

Chris Deam was twenty-three years of age and Joe Deam was twenty-five. They were sons of Joseph Deam, Canadian Pacific Railway roadmaster at Banff.

INSURANCE UP AS HOLDUPS CONTINUE

Vancouver, March 10.—Additional premium for insurance against personal holdups, formerly part of burglary policies under an inclusive premium, will be asked after April 1 by companies covering the Greater Vancouver area. Prevalence of "stickups" has led to the changes, it is announced.

After April 1 there will be one standard form of burglary insurance for residences—a 100 per cent blanket with 30 per cent limit to loss or damage to any one article or set. There will be no change in policies covering business premises. The personal holdup clause will be segregated from the new policies, and this coverage, if desired, will be added on payment of additional premium.

This change in policy has been announced by British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association as applying to Burnaby, New Westminster, North Vancouver, Point Grey, South Vancouver, Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver and West Vancouver.

FRENCH PLAN TRADE CONFERENCE

Associated Press. Paris, March 10.—A French colonial conference for empire trade preference, plans for which were announced by Premier Daladier last month, has been called for the end of April. The conference may follow along the lines of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa last summer.

STUDENT'S HAIR CLIPPED BY GANG

Montreal, March 10.—According to the McGill Daily, student organ of McGill University, Ernest Crown, graduate student in economics, was taken from his home in an automobile Tuesday evening and driven around the city to the Molson Stadium, where he was blindfolded, his legs tied and his hair clipped.

Red ink was poured over Crown's head, the paper says, and he was left lying in the snow behind the stadium. He managed to remove the ropes and get away shortly after the gang had left. Crown said a spokesman for the gang had told him he was "here because of the Black Sheep."

(The Black Sheep is a radical student paper banned by the university authorities. Crown was formerly connected with the paper, but resigned after it was outlawed.)

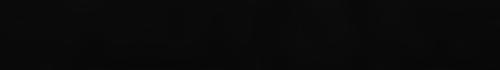

Associated Press. Philadelphia, March 10.—Getting bald and growing gray are natural results of the present stage of evolution, and nothing can be done about it, according to Dr. Ivor Griffith, professor of pharmacy.

In an address at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science yesterday evening, he declared that "monkeys," apes and lemurs, our acknowledged Darwinian daddies, also get bald spots and grow gray, although no monkey ever wore a hat, or ever read a ticker tape or worried over a moralism.

Prof. Griffith said the "evolutionary process that produced the white race will eventually so depigment man as to result in a race of absolute albinos."

Stating science had substantiated the belief that red-headed people have fiery tempers, he said, "the Egyptians had a habit of quietly getting rid of those born with red hair."

MOTH-BALLS, THE FARMERS AND THE GAME BOARD

Some of the remarks made before the Agriculture Committee of the Legislature yesterday by a delegation of farmers from over Sooke way, who came to town to protest against the activities of the provincial game board, were rather illuminating. One delegate caustically declared that among the chief qualifications of a game warden was the ability "to tell a Liberal turnip from a Conservative one." It will be a shock to many people to learn that party lines have extended themselves to the vegetable kingdom, that there is such a thing as a Conservative turnip, carrot or cabbage as distinct from the Liberal species in each case. Yet, why not? The fact that cabbages do not vote—whereas many cabbage-heads do—should not imply that they have no party political consciousness. We know that in the citrus fruit family, for instance, there are many lemons which are actively engaged in political controversy, even in this province where lemons are not indigenous. We are astonished, however, that Dr. Tolmie, an agriculturist, scientifically and practically, never has told us that there is such a thing as a Liberal onion or a Conservative onion, the chief mark of distinction between them being the strength and quality of their odor. Every day we learn something new. There is more than prosperity around the corner.

To the delegation we also are indebted for the diverting intelligence that according to the provincial game board moth-balls provide adequate protection for field crops against the devastating attention of deer. If this is a zoological, or chemical, fact, as the case may be, herein lies a spacious opportunity for the promotion of the moth-ball industry, for a moth-ball boom would make the mining boom look like thirty cents. We have long been aware that moth-balls have been useful in protecting deer—in skin form—from moths, but there would be something sharply ironical for pre-dacious vegetable-raiding deer in the use of moth-balls for the protection of Liberal, Tory or Bowser turnips, carrots and cabbages against themselves. Of course, as a member of yesterday's delegation pointed out, it would be necessary to protect the moth-balls from rain, snow or, mayhap, some parasite to which this tamperous product is an even greater delicacy than a juicy spider or a savory toad's foot, but our ingenious game board, with the scientific co-operation of the Minister of Agriculture, ought to discover an adequate preparation for the purpose. Incidentally, we might tactfully remind the Minister that moths are death on spots.

Coming down to the actual merits of the case, our game is important, it is true, but it is not nearly so important as our field crops, and if there is any conflict between the two, the game will have to go. It is even more important that the activities of game wardens shall not infringe any of the rights and privileges inseparable from free citizenship. Some years ago, when in opposition, Mr. Pooley in a memorable statement threatened dire consequences to any game warden who trespassed upon his property without a search warrant, and quoted the time-honored dictum that an "Englishman's home is his castle." Yet, according to one highly-respected rancher yesterday, two game wardens had actually held up his son with shot-gun and revolver and took away his hunting outfit. Whether the accused man was violating the law or not in the manner in which he sought to protect his crop, no game warden should be permitted to act in that way. The provincial police do not operate in such melodramatic fashion.

Finally, with the government being smothered by deficits, it is necessary to cut out the game board altogether, and let the work that it is doing be done by some other branch of the public service, in co-operation with one or more of the fine game protection organizations which now exist among the public. The several hundreds of thousands of dollars a year which are being expended upon this department could be profitably used in putting food into the mouths, and clothes on the backs, of the many thousands of men, women and children in British Columbia who are in dire need of both.

MR. DE VALERA WILL SOON
BE FREE OF THE OATH

The Irish Free State Senate has held up the bill to remove the oath of allegiance from the constitution by the approval of a motion that the whole matter be made the subject of negotiations between the Free State government and the government of the United Kingdom.

Soon after Mr. de Valera assumed office last spring he got a bill through the Dail to abolish the oath; but the Cosgrave followers in the Senate were strong enough numerically to kill it. After his endorsement at the polls recently, De Valera reintroduced the measure and, of course, obtained its approval in the lower chamber for the second time. As far as the government is concerned, the bill will become law when the statutory period of eighteen months after its first introduction has elapsed. The Dail may then ignore the action of the Senate.

What the Free State government does about this matter will not worry the government of Great Britain very much. The relations between the two countries, both economically and politically, are very much the same as the relations between Britain and a foreign state. The economic aspect of these relations, however, is working much more serious hardship on the Free State than on Britain.

EVENTS MOVING QUICKLY IN GERMANY—PROMISE TO JEWS

By extending federal police control to the state of Bavaria, the whole of Germany now is completely under Nazi domination in practically every sense of the term. The first reaction to this latest move of the Hitler ministry was the resignation to-day of the Saxon cabinet, where Baron Manfred von Killinger, the Nazi leader, took over the executive duties in the state and appointed his representatives to ministerial offices. Promptly afterward the cabinet of the state of Baden handed in its resignation, and, presumably, governmental control will pass to the National Socialists.

One of the first actions of the Hitlerite police chief in Bavaria was the issuance of an order for the arrest of all Communist officials and Reichsbanner leaders in the state. The police officers were told to brook no opposition in the hoisting of Nazi flags on official buildings, while Nazi "storm troops" were ordered to supplement the police. An intensive search for weapons already has begun. Meanwhile from Berlin comes the threat of hard labor for the thousands of Communists who have been arrested in the last few days. Strangely enough, however, two members of the Hitler cabinet who belong to the Nazi party held out a promise of "legal safety" for the Jewish population. Just what "legal safety" means is not disclosed. There may be a "joker" in this.

This promise is all the more interesting—apart altogether from the original threat of anti-Jewish pogroms—since Dr. Wilhelm Frick, Minister of the Interior, went to Frankfurt-on-the-Main last night to repeat it. Now, the House of Rothschild was founded in the ancient city on the Main, and this Jewish family was destined to acquire an unexampled position from the magnitude of its financial transactions. The sign of the "Red Shield" in the Judengasse is still an object of interest to tourists, for the house which it adorns was the headquarters of the real founder of the firm to be—the original name was Bauer—who set up as a money-lender there two centuries ago.

Perhaps some of the still very influential Jewish financial interests in Frankfurt caused the hint to be dropped to Chancellor Hitler that he had better tone down his anti-Semitic ideas. There are nearly 30,000 Jews in that romantic city; and the House of Rothschild is still a factor in the financial capitals of the world. Hitler will need money to carry on. He is piling up enough trouble for himself without irritating those from whom he may require financial assistance.

USEFUL WORK BY PARKS BRANCH

The National Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa is doing a useful work in familiarizing the Canadian people with the natural resources of their country through the medium of motion pictures and lectures conducted by Mr. J. C. Campbell, director of publicity of the department. Mr. Campbell is well known throughout Canada for the ability and zeal with which he is impressing upon the public a proper appreciation of Canada's advantages in scenic charm and wild life, and his yearly visits to British Columbia always are heartily welcomed.

Recently Mr. Campbell exhibited striking pictures of wild animals and game, some of which represented real triumphs of perseverance and skill on the part of his camera man. In fact, these pictures were so exceptional in quality and interest that they would be first-class screen attractions in any theatre in the world; much more attractive, entertaining and instructive than many of the films showing in the motion picture houses, and, withal, an arresting advertisement of this country.

In this aspect there are incalculable possibilities. There is no production of the camera more intriguing to public interest than that which shows wild life in its natural setting, and there is none more wholesome and stimulating. The appeal of the out-of-doors is as old as mankind itself. It is irresistible everywhere, and in the new social and economic orientation which is rapidly dawning, that appeal will be even more compelling and universal than it has been for many years.

We suggest to the National Parks Branch that it not only continue this part of its work, but that, if at all possible, it expand its programme in quantity as well as in diversity, besides enlarging the scope of its exhibitions so that all the world may realize what Canada has to offer to the lover of nature undefiled.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THEY DID THE DYING

Gen. O'Ryan of 27th American Division

"We entered the war," he says, "in partnership with Britain and France against a common enemy, and we were expected to play a man's role. We weren't ready. Fourteen months elapsed before we took over a section of the line and in the meantime our third of that line was held by British and French. They did the dying."

A NEW DEAL FOR BRITAIN

The Philadelphia Ledger

The British deserve every consideration and, with the Hoover-Roosevelt agreement, they can now be sure of getting it. Preliminary discussions can begin as soon as seems desirable, and the hope is to have the matter cleared up before another debt installment is due on June 15. Thus an era which has been devoted to the troublesome business of financially liquidating the war appears to be approaching its end.

ENGLAND'S WAY

Steele in The Christian Science Monitor

London finds a way to end its bus strike after six serious days. Lord Ashfield, chairman of the operating company, on the coldest day in the year, appeals to the 13,000 men on an "outlaw" strike to consider the suffering they are bringing to hundreds of thousands of people. Presently 250 buses leave the garages under their old drivers. By the rush hour 600 are in commission and all men back on the job, with a promise that their grievance will be considered. The strikers had said their wars were closed to appeals—but they hadn't buttoned up their hearts.

A THOUGHT

Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.—Deuteronomy v. 32.
A good name is better than bags of gold.—Cervantes.

Across The Bay

Another dull day in the House—but highly respectable and filled with such stuff as British Columbia is made of—like economics from Dr. Winch—solidly talk from Colonel Lister—home thoughts from Mr. Mitchell—and constructive ideas from Mr. Carson.

By H.B.V.

SIMPLE THINGS

THURSDAY PROVIDED another field day for the back benches—dull stuff, mostly, but the great open space, beyond the pavement, outside the clamor of the city and the daily stuff of British Columbia's life.

Dr. Winch of Skeena used the first full hour in one of those thoughtful, unpretentious speeches which he has been making here for the last nine years, but will make no more. He has decided to go back to private life, even though he could be elected in his riding without raising a finger. The House, which has perhaps given him more general respect than it has accorded any member of late years, will be sorry to see him go. He will be one of the few who will go of their own accord, without regret.

The missionary doctor of old Hazelton, the man who has cared for the bodies and spirits of the pioneers and the Indians since the early days, is now a practical politician, willing to trade and bargain for success. He takes party doctrines and principles seriously. Standing thus firm on his Liberal principles, he is opposed to any union with Conservatism. Quite honestly and without any hope of personal advantage, he believes in the party system, and he believes in welding together the irreconcilable elements of Conservatism and Liberalism.

ECONOMICS

WITH PLenty of time to think and read plenty on his hill at Hazelton, Dr. Winch has pondered the general economic situation and come to certain conclusions. Very fairly he refused to blame any government for our troubles. For the depression he excused the Tröms Government altogether, and the federal government also. But he could not excuse them if they didn't do something about curing it, for the cure obviously must come from governments. It wouldn't come from anyone else.

The remedy, as Dr. Winch conceived it, was not to take money away from people who had plenty and to distribute among the rest of the population. It would only accumulate in clever hands again. Work must be provided, instead, for idle hands, and, secondly, agriculture, the foundation of every nation, must be restored. So long as a man could take twenty sheep to town and get only one suit of clothes in return, said Dr. Winch, the country could never prosper.

He proposed—and apparently spoke for the Liberal Party—a provincial board, representing producers, consumers and middlemen to fix prices of agricultural products, so as to guarantee the farmer a return for his labor. He admitted when questioned by Mr. Bruhn that this was a difficult matter, since outside goods could come here, but this was a detail which a strong government could handle.

To start works for the unemployed Dr. Winch boldly proposed inflation of Canadian currency sufficient to provide the necessary funds. This he did not consider dangerous inflation, since there was less money in circulation in Canada now than twenty years ago, when business was a fraction of its present volume. Only such national action, he believed, could get the wheels of industry turning again.

INHUMAN

AGAIN SPEAKING for the Liberal Party, Dr. Winch called the incidence of one per cent tax "cruel and inhuman" as applied to small wage earners, like one of his nurses, who earns $60 a month, supports a family of seven and pays eighty-five cents to the treasury. Deputy Speaker Twiss ruled that it was out of order to call any law of this Legislature "cruel and inhuman" and said it had nothing to do with the debate on the Speech from the Throne away—a remarkable ruling since no one has talked on the Speech from the Throne for two weeks.

If it were necessary to confine oneself to it, indeed, there could be no debate whatever. Mr. Pattullo said as much, but Mr. Twiss refused to argue and the debate went on, as usual, having no relation to the subject being debated. Colonel Lister, a blunt soldier, a straight-shooter and a friend of everyone, followed with a brief, workmanlike address. He urged the modification of the Security Frauds Prevention Act, which he said, was seriously retarding mineral development, making it almost impossible for prospectors to open up their claims. After all, he argued, any man who dares to mine, mining stocks knows he is gambling, and no legislation can save fools from themselves.

MAN ON LAND

SPEAKING as a farmer himself, Col. Lister, though he is president of the government caucus, rejected the government's land settlement scheme for unemployed as quite unworkable and impractical. There was no use putting people on the land now and expecting them to make a living. It just couldn't be done, for no branch of agriculture was even making expenses. As a matter of fact, the government would soon have most of the farms on its hands for tax arrears and he didn't know what it would do with them.

Colonel Lister made a passing thrust at the Kidd committee's proposal for redistributing electoral constituencies and asserted that the House knew more on this subject than any business man. Incidentally he thought that governments generally should get some revenue out of men who had buried their fortunes in tax-free bonds while others lost their money in legitimate business enterprise.

Mr. Mitchell gave the House a talk on his home town of Kamloops—Kamloops court house (which needed an addition), Kamloops roads (which needed extension), Kamloops schools (which needed an extra grant) and Kamloops potatoes (which were perfect and needed nothing but people to eat them). Kamloops will never have a more enthusiastic salesman than Mr. Mitchell. Apart from Kamloops, Mr. Mitchell talked on the need of reducing the penalty for tax arrears and left the larger issues of the day to others, who haven't such heavy problems on their mind as Kamloops.

SOUND STUFF

MR. CARSON of Lillooet made a good start in his campaign for reduced interest rates with a short, brisk speech which was packed full of meat. He comes from his rolling ranch on the top of Pavilion Mountain, where a man has plenty of time to ponder things as he rides a horse across the endless bunchgrass range. Mr. Carson, the bronzed young rancher, who can still ride a broncho and rope a calf with anyone, has evidently thought a lot in the last year about the problem of government, and read a lot of dry stuff in his big ranch house during the winter evenings, when the coyotes howl down the gulch. He has come to the conclusion that somehow we must unload part of our debt before it crushes us utterly.

True, this is a national problem, he admitted, but he had concrete proposals for solving it, either by a conversion of outstanding loans or a heavy tax on income from interest on government bonds. More interesting to a desperate government—and Mr. Jones picked up ears that are tired by the impossible demands of friends and the complaints of enemies—was Mr. Carson's ingenious plan to pay for unem-ployed relief by an issue of scrip, which would carry and retire itself in a year. Every week a two-cent postage stamp would be affixed by the holder of that date to every dollar unit in the scrip, and at the end of fifty weeks the completed unit would be worth a dollar cash. It was disagreeable to do such things, said Mr. Carson, and more disagreeable to write down debts, but it was better than breaking down the whole financial structure, which couldn't stand up under its present load.

Mr. Carson is one of the young members brought into the House by the last election who should have a bright future in Conservative politics, if he cares to remain, silent for three sessions, he has kept his eyes open and learned a lot. Evidently there is going to be an important debate on the large issue which he has opened with his resolution and his scrip scheme.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
MARCH 10, 1908
(From The Times Files)

Weather Forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Moderate to fresh easterly to southerly winds; unsettled and mild, with rain.

D. O. Cameron, secretary of the Greater Vancouver Board of Trade, wishes to state that his firm is the only one that has been blasting logs in the Victoria Arm, so far as he knows, and that the work has been done on the shore nearly sixty feet from the water. The logs are floated into a shallow place and then at low tide they are high and dry.

It is likely that the biggest championship game of the Pacific Coast will be played in the city at an early date, to settle the question as to superiority in the Northwest. Basketball leagues from the two teams are Vancouver and Seattle, both undisputed champions of their respective cities.

The Hungarian partridges, first imported by A. E. Todd, are still being kept in their run at "Lesauvies," St. Charles Street. A shipment which arrived a few days ago were turned out in different places. Eight pairs were liberated at Saanich, ten pairs at Duncan, and three at Nanaimo.

The City Council after disposing of the ordinary routine business last evening resolved themselves into a committee with the mayor in the chair to consider the fire warden's report and the proposed high pressure salt water system.

ASSISTING VICTORIA GIRL IN RECITAL

Miss Marjorie Lane, well-known disease who was a frequent visitor to Victoria some years ago, will give two groups at the Salle Chopin, Paris, this evening, when Miss Marguerite Devlin, daughter of Mrs. H. M. Devlin, of Victoria, makes her debut as a pianist. Miss Devlin, who studied for two years with Arthur de Greeff in Brussels, and since last June has been at Côté's School, Ecole Normale, in Paris, and studying under Lazare Levy and Duménil, will play four groups, including Gluck's "Scarlatti," Ravel, Debussy and Godovsky and Chopin numbers. It is expected that Ravel will be in the audience to-night. Several of Miss Devlin's admirers called their good wishes to her yesterday.

Lady Lake Again Heads Columbia Diocesan W.A.

Majority of Executive Returned By Acclamation at This Morning's Session

Miss A. De Blois Gives Vivid Picture of Mission Work in India

Lady (Richard) Lake was re-elected by acclamation to the presidency of the Diocesan Board of Columbia-Women's Auxiliary at this morning's session of the annual meeting at the Memorial Hall. The executive was returned with very few changes, halting on the third vice-president and the Living Message secretary taking place this afternoon. An interesting addition to the personnel of the executive was the election of Mrs. F. J. Brimer as first vice-president. Mrs. Brimer being Dominion Dorcas secretary but hitherto not having held office on the Columbia board.

With the exception of the two officers to be filled, as stated above, the complete executive followed: Honorary president, Mrs. C. de V. Schreier; honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. C. S. Quinlan and Mrs. E. P. Laycock; president, Lady (Richard) Lake; first vice-president, Mrs. F. J. Brimer; second vice-president, Mrs. H. A. Collinson; recording secretary, Mrs. Colin Cummins; treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Hartley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. M. Prentice; Dorcas secretary-treasurer, Miss Lydia Hill; thankoffering secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. Mayo; extra cents secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Bengough; educational department secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W.

LEPER COLONY

Close to the mission school was a leper colony, and some interesting facts regarding the disease were related by the speaker. Among the sufferers in the asylum were many Christians, and the hope and faith which their belief brought to their lives was something of infinite value. Illustrating the hymns sung by the people of the mission at their services, Miss De Blois sang several familiar hymns in Hindustani. Among the hymns, her appreciation by enthusiastic applause.

In closing, Miss De Blois asked for the prayers of the W.A. for the work in India, which she, as one of the Canadian missionaries, is carrying on in the name of the Church of England in Canada.

IN ARCTIC MISSION

Miss Millicent Wright of Vancouver gave an illuminating talk on mission work in the Arctic, describing evangelism work among the Eskimos, carried on in the face of much difficulty. The Canadian Government, realizing the value of the Eskimo as a Canadian citizen, was deeply concerned in the preservation of the race, the continued work in connection with the fur trade was of great importance. Miss Wright gave a brief account of some of the early missionaries and the establishing of mission centres and hospitals, some of which had grown to be important and up-to-date institutions. It was a matter of great pride and thankfulness that there was now an Eskimo branch of the W.A.

During the evening, the Bishop's choir sang two hymns, and Miss Moore of St. John's, was the soloist.

Paying her second visit to Victoria, Miss E. Frances Thompson, well-known English dietitian and late supervisor in Home Economics, London County Council Schools, will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons as director of the local sessions of the "Crucial School of Home Science." Sessions begin at 2 o'clock, and all three are declared to be informative and interesting.

PERSONAL

Mr. Colin McL. Rennie, chief accountant at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, has been staying at the Empress Hotel on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Christie of Winnipeg have arrived in Victoria on their annual visit to the Coast and are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Miss Pat Lamont of Seattle is a visitor in Victoria and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Weller, Douglas Street.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Welch have returned home after a three weeks' visit to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Murray, Dunbar Heights, Vancouver.

Mrs. J. W. Benning, Hereford Place, Island Highway, who is visiting in Vancouver for a few days, will return tomorrow morning to her home on Vancouver Island.

Mr. C. F. Pratt, manager of the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, and Mrs. Pratt, are spending a holiday in Victoria and are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. C. E. McNeill will sing several groups during the tea hour at the Empress Hotel tomorrow afternoon, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Malcolm More.

Mrs. A. G. Weightman and Miss Margaret McArthur are leaving this week for Halifax from where they will stay in a few days for England by the liner Duchess of York.

Mr. David Thomson, 1270 Dallas Road, left for Vancouver yesterday afternoon. Mr. Thomson will leave for Anxoy at the end of the week, where he will enter his new position.

Mrs. Walter Bapty, of Pemberton Road, who has been spending a holiday in southern California, returned to her home in Victoria yesterday evening. She was a passenger aboard the St. Ruth Alexander.

Returning from their wedding trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Baines of Vancouver arrived here yesterday evening from the south by the liner Ruth Alexander.

Miss K. V. Errington, of the Bank of Montreal staff, returned to her home in Victoria yesterday evening by the St. Ruth Alexander, after spending a vacation in southern California.

Miss K. Clax was hostess at a small luncheon party yesterday at her home on Linden Avenue in honor of Miss Inez Her, whose wedding will take place this month. A crystal bowl of daffodils and iris centred the table.

Mrs. R. C. Donald of Toronto, who has been spending some time at the Beach Hotel, returned to Victoria yesterday from Vancouver, where she has been attending the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society conference.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Woolson of Toronto, who are visiting in Victoria as the guests of Mr. Woolson's parents, Major and Mrs. H. H. Woolson, Hay, returned to their home in Ontario, where they are expected to leave on Sunday for the mainland on their way to their home in Ontario, have postponed their departure for a week.

An interesting ceremony took place recently when the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lauder Ramsay, 1783 Main Street, was christened at St. John's Church, receiving the name of Trudean Dorothy. The godparents were Mrs. T. Dodd of Gordon Head, Mrs. A. J. Johnston of Seattle, and Mr. G. F. Barnes.

The engagement has been announced in England between Squadron Leader Joseph S. T. Pall, D.S.O., A.F.C., only son of the late H. T. Pall and Mrs. Pall, and Miss E. B. Crutchfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Coode, of St. Ives, Beckenham, Kent.

In honor of Mr. Jack Nicholson, Esq., who has come to Victoria recently from Regina to make his home, and honor his sister, Mrs. T. Barton of Saskatoon, who is spending a few weeks in Victoria as her guest, Miss E. B. Crutchfield entertained on Wednesday afternoon at her home on McClure Street.

Mrs. W. T. Overstall entertained on Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1570 Dallas Road, with a delightful handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Kathleen Cuff, who is leaving shortly for England. Those present were: Mrs. Holdercroft, Mrs. Cuthbertson, Mrs. Hinchman, Mrs. Jenner, Mrs. Jealousie, Mrs. Duckworth, Mrs. Easton, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kenna, Mrs. Murray Miller, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Overstall and the Misses McGregor, Maynard, May, Jones, Lamb, Kathleen Cuff and Mrs. Overstall.

About 150 delegates and members of the Columbia W.A. attended the delightful "at home" held by the executive of the Diocesan Board at the Denney yesterday afternoon. Lady Lake assisted Mrs. C. S. Quinlan in receiving the guests and a delicious tea was served, the tables being most attractively arranged with spring flowers and matching tapers. Miss D. Blois of Kangra, India, and Miss Millicent Wright of Vancouver were among the special guests. Interest was added to the occasion by the comprehensive display of beautiful ecclesiastical embroideries, representing the work of the Church Embroidery Guild, of which Mrs. Edith Breenhill is the head, the exquisite stitchery and beautiful designs exciting much admiring comment.

A very enjoyable bridge party and entertainment was staged by the Victoria Cricket Association in aid of the Macdonald field fund yesterday evening at the British branch club-rooms. The arrangements for the affair were in charge of the chairman, Mr. D. Fletcher, and a committee including Messrs. F. C. Payne, Reginald Wenman, H. T. Lock and Percy Shrimpton. Songs were given by Mrs. Frank Allwood and Mr. Barlow, Mrs. A. Kerslake playing the accompaniment. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Bridge prizes were donated by local firms. The cricketers plan to hold a dance at the Empress Hotel on Thursday, April 6, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. A popular five-piece orchestra has already been engaged, and several novelty numbers will be given by performing artists.

Mrs. F. Roosevelt Knits Sweater During Session

Washington, March 10.—The United States House of Representatives, called in special session for extraordinary purposes, caught its breath in surprise yesterday upon discovering the wife of the President, hatless and informally dressed, knitting away on a sweater in the gallery.

The surprise became mutual when the first member to recognize her clapped his hands for attention, bowed to the presidential gallery and shouted "Mrs. Roosevelt!"

The membership arose as one man and took the clapping. Mrs. Roosevelt, after a moment's uncertainty as to the occasion, stood up too, and bowed in return.

Metropolitan Drama Group Plans Play

"Meet Uncle Sally," will be the play that the Metropolitan Drama Group will present on Tuesday evening, March 28, in the First Baptist Church at 8 o'clock. Committees appointed to care for the arrangements include the following members: Tickets, Miss Florrie Smethurst; properties and costumes, Miss Jessie Christopher and Miss Doris Curtis; stage, Alex. McLaurin, assisted by John Bray and Hal Williams; ushers, Douglas Ritchie, assisted by four other members; box office, Harry Bates; electrician, Ken Cronk; programmes, Miss Jessie Christopher and Ber Simpson.

Weddings

ELSWICK—MORELAND

The wedding took place at Albert on Wednesday afternoon at the home of T. C. Elswick, of Mrs. Edith Lyl Moreland, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Day of Kentucky, to Mr. Thomas C. Elswick, second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. Elswick of Virginia; Rev. T. H. McAdams officiating. The ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by Mr. Joseph A. McIntyre.

The bride wore oyster white crepe and carried white hollyhocks. Mrs. Charles Taylor, matron of honor, was attired in mull white colored crepe, her bouquet being snowdrops and ferns. Mr. Charles Taylor was best man.

Miss Twille May, daughter of the bride, made a winsome flower girl and ring bearer, presenting the ring in a dainty flower basket. Her frock was a Kate Greenaway design of white silk net over shell pink satin. The services were conducted in a setting of ferns and foliage, beneath a silver wedding bell. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Elswick will reside at Victoria Quay, Albert.

Business Women To Hear Speaker

At its monthly supper meeting to be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening, the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club will hear an address by Mrs. W. G. Wilson, president of the Women's Canadian Club, who will give her impressions of Rome. The supper will commence at 6:15 o'clock. Mrs. Wilson is a delightful speaker and it is hoped that there will be a large turnout of members for what promises to be an unusually interesting address.

Fascists Against Thin Figures

Rome, March 10 (Associated Press)—Black looks are being cast at thin women as a Fascist campaign for a return to more ample figures gets underway. "Enough of these crisis creases," said the newspaper La Tribuna. "They are against the spirit of the day. We are looking to better times and this appearance of near-starvation doesn't fit in."

Your liver's a very small organ, but it certainly can put your digestive and eliminative organs out of order by refusing to pour out its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. You won't completely correct such a condition by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or anything else. When you've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant.

Your Baby
and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The nursing mother is inevitably the victim of many old and exploded ideas about breast feeding. She is sure to be told that she must eat only foods or baby will have colic. She is warned against eating breast milk and other milks. She is advised to drink this liquid or that liquid to make milk. Her efforts to follow conscientiously all of these precepts are often responsible for the loss of her milk.

THE SECRET

The secret of a good supply of breast milk is the regular and thorough emptying of the breasts. It is taken for granted that a mother will receive enough food to satisfy her nutritional needs. It is also more than possible that if she follows her own instincts she'll drink liquids of all kinds, for a nursing mother is invariably thirsty.

The nursing mother needs calcium during both the pregnancy and lactation periods to satisfy an extraordinary demand being made upon her for this building element. To insure a good supply of calcium she should make it a point to drink four cups of milk daily, in addition to any other beverage which she may enjoy.

DRINK MILK

Her needs at the lactation period are: Wholesome food of any kind that appeals to her and is easily digested by her, four cups of milk daily, and all the water or tea or coffee she wants in addition. There are no taboos upon sour foods. The sour food is digested by the mother's milk, and the acid in the milk in an acid form, thus causing baby distress and colic, though from the horror of sour foods displayed by nursing mothers one gathers that they strongly suspect just this. Eat wholesome and naturally, avoid stuffing and cease having fidgets over this or that food in the diet.

The regular stimulation of the breast every four hours is the best method of increasing the supply. Both breasts should be nursed at each feeding. This results in a steady, regular stimulation every four hours instead of every eight hours, the longer interval being discouraging to a good supply.

DON'T OMIT NURSINGS

Nursings should not be skipped with the idea that by so doing more milk will be saved for the next nursing. We know this couldn't be true or weaning would be impossible. Lessened demands upon the breast result in a lessened amount of milk. Half emptying the breast and waiting long intervals between feedings are conducive to a rapidly disappearing breast supply.

If complementary feedings are necessary they should be given directly after a nursing, the breast having been emptied thoroughly and regularly just the same. Substitution of a bottle for a breast feeding is the first step in weaning, no matter what the age of the child.

A clearer understanding of the mechanics of breast feeding and the factors which influence the increase or decrease of the milk should enable every mother to become a successful nurse. Her most profitable posture will be to turn a deaf ear to the counsel she receives, for from my experience it has always been worthless and sometimes harmful.

To-morrow: "Don't Let Emotions Complicate Foundation Habits."

Indigestion, Gas

IF you're troubled with stomach distress, gas, and your blood needs enriching, there's nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart of 129 S. Carroll St., Hamilton, Ont., says: "I used to have such awful stomach distress. I had indigestion most all the while and was continually bloated with gas. At times I had heartburn that made me feel miserable and I would become dizzy-headed frequently. But Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery built up my system and entirely rid me of the stomach distress. I am pleased to speak well of Dr. Pierce's as I have had no stomach trouble in years." REPUBLICAN WIFE
OF U.S. MINISTER

The wife of the U.S. Secretary of the Interior does not intend to give up her G.O.P. seat in the Illinois legislature because her husband has been invited to sit in a Democratic cabinet. Mrs. Anna Wilmarth Leake, the politically-minded wife of Harold L. Leake, sees no reason why the honor accorded her husband by a Democratic president-elect should totally eclipse that accorded her by the Republican voters of the Seventh Illinois Congressional District last November when, for the third time, they elected her to be their representative in the state assembly.

DUNCAN NOTES

St. Edward's Altar Society met at the home of Mrs. Hodding on Monday, with Miss Baron in the chair. Still holders were appointed for the annual bazaar on May 6. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hodding.

The Women's Auxiliary to Cowichan branch of the Canadian Legion met on Wednesday with Mrs. J. Saunders in the chair. Mrs. Tisdall offered her home for a book tea on April 6, and arrangements for transportation and amusements were made. Mrs. Chadwick will be tea convener, assisted by Mrs. J. Lowwood. Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Tisdall will donate prizes for contests. Mrs. O. Tisdall gave a talk on China, described a Chinese wedding, and showed pictures, photographs and needlework. Tea was served by Mrs. Ryall and Mrs. Brookbank.

CLAIMS TO CURE ILLNESS
THROUGH BELL-LIKE NOTES

London Woman Demonstrates Healing Power of Melody;
New Science Called Phono-Therapy.

Many manifestations of the healing art are recorded from time to time, but one of the most curious claims is made by an Englishwoman, daughter of a surgeon and wife of a composer, who claims she rebuilds broken-down parts of the body by rhythmic chants and soft bell-like notes. Her treatment is the exact antithesis of Carver's demonstration of the destructive power of sound, he being able to shatter a crystal glass by singing a sustained high note into it.

PHONO-THERAPY

This woman is the wife of J. H. Foulds, the composer, is herself a well-known musician, and daughter of C. W. MacCarthy, a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.

Combining science and art she discovered, after years of research, a method for the curative administration of sounds. Now she is opening a clinic for phono-therapy, a "bath" of sound, which she claims to be analogous to sun or bathing, or treatment by ultra-violet rays.

SUSTAINED HUM

At her home in Chiswick recently, Mrs. Foulds gave a Daily Mail reporter a demonstration of her treatment, which she describes as follows: "Putting her palms on my spine, a low musical note which is outside the normal range of a woman's voice broke from her lips; a single sound, starting as a hum, growing in volume and power, making my ears ring, and resonating in my body with the sensation of gently lapping waves."

"She changed the note, ended it in a mournful tone, and, listening with the tips of her fingers, as though with a stethoscope, she intoned an ancient chant. Then she explained:

TRIED BY OTHERS

"I am not alone in my studies of the power of sound. Patients are treated by sound, color and scents in the State asylum of Chicago. You can raise or lower the bodily temperature by sound. According to the findings of two Frankfurt doctors, sounds have a strong and beneficial action in cases of muscular debility, paralysis, rheumatism and insomnia. They experimented with certain combined sounds put on gramophone records for ten years. They could not limit the field for cure."

NOT FAITH OR SUGGESTION

"I arrived at the same conclusions independently. Faith and suggestions have nothing to do with the cure. I have successfully treated patients whose cases showed no traceable, and have cured cases of bad inflammatory and other conditions."

"The point in which I essentially differ from the doctors is that there is a traceable magnetic influence which can be induced by certain practices with sound, and which I hold is part of the cure. As a violinist I played in the world's biggest auditoriums for years. But an instrument alone cannot put you in this close rapport with other people."

"The link is in your fingers. A perfect ear, a fairly good voice, and a completely developed musical nature, are the fundamentals of phono-therapy. But the hand as a conveyor of magnetism plays an important part. It transmits vibratory forces which somehow contact through chanting. I cannot get in touch with these forces if I do not chant."

DIAGNOSIS BY NOTES

"Every organ, each nerve centre of the body, has a note. My sensitivity is so acute that when I begin a treatment I can almost invariably hear the note or notes in the patient's anatomy which require to be dealt with. There is a fixed pitch to which we are attuned when in health. Professor Daniel Jones, the authority on phonetics, has measured my sounds based on this pitch with interesting results."

"If a patient's body gives me a note out of tune to which I know that the region to which it corresponds is affected, diagnosis is correct in about 70 per cent of cases. The sounds I administer serve the purpose of readjusting the false pitch. In most cases the patient is helped or cured. I claim no miracles, but under proper medical supervision I have achieved results which warrant the hope that phono-therapy may prove to be another wonder of science and of art."

St. Mark's Young People Held Fair

St. Mark's Sr. Anglican Young People's Association held a very successful country fair and bazaar in the Parish Hall. It was opened in the afternoon by the Rev. O. L. Jull and the many stalls and competitions were well patronized. Prizes for the different competitions were presented during the evening, during which time dancing by pupils of Miss Florence Glough was very much enjoyed together with several musical items, which included vocal solos by Mrs. O. L. Jull, Miss George and Master L. Clarke; violin solo by H. George; piano and mandolin selections by Reg. and Raymond Porter, and piano duet by Misses George. The accompanist was Mrs. Ruby Moore. A very amusing skit "Bill and Lisa" was put on by Miss P. Butts and C. Kirchin.

REFUSED TO GO TO RUSSIA

Eleanor West, fourteen, above, of Newcastle, Wash., made up her mind she would not go to Russia, though her father planned to take her there. Eleanor, American-born, appealed to juvenile and immigration authorities, churches and women's clubs. After a long fight she became a voluntary ward of the juvenile court, and thus gained the right to stay in the United States.

COMOX SENDS BOOKS TO REMOTE PLACES

Special to The Times.
Courtenay, March 10.—The Comox District Women's Institute met on Tuesday, when Mrs. Ash, president, read a letter from the Men's Musical Club announcing a concert would be held on Wednesday, March 15, to defray expenses to the Victoria and Vancouver Musical Festivals.

The social service committee's report, presented by Mrs. H. Bryant, showed the number of families assisted in February had decreased from previous months. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. W. Evans of Powell River for donation of mended and washed clothing.

The monthly social will be held on Monday, March 20, when Mrs. John Aitken and Mrs. Walter Brown will be hostesses at a bridge and whist party. Mrs. Ash called for gifts of plain refreshments. The raffle for the quilt which won the prize at the Comox fall fair will be drawn at the social. Last month, in pursuance of their plan to get in touch with isolated institutes a parcel of books and magazines were sent to Leo La Hache.

WILL DISCUSS
"CITIZENSHIP"

A round table discussion on "Citizenship" will be a feature of the monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women to be held in the headquarters, Campbell Building, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will commence sharp on time, and the discussion will be a follow-up of the excellent paper presented by Mrs. W. McManus, "Sovereign of citizenship, at the recent annual meeting. Mrs. J. D. Gordon will introduce the subject of "Enfranchisement of Women—An asset or a liability?" Mrs. J. D. McLaurin will introduce "Compulsory Voting" and Miss Nellie Lawson, the subject of "Naturalization of Aliens." It is hoped members of all affiliated societies will attend. Mrs. C. C. Spofford, the new president, will preside.

More parcels are being prepared and will be sent to remote institutes closer to this district, probably Cortez, Valdes Island, Sayward, Whaletown and Hornby. Distribution of parcels and contents was left in the hands of Mrs. Theed Pearce.

Vancouver, March 10.—"Come Methodist and Aim of Medical Mission Work" was the topic of Dr. Donald Black's address at the Wednesday evening session of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, B. C. Conference branch, in St. John's Church.

Dr. Black described some of his experiences in a mission hospital in Lungchingtung, just north of the Korean boundary in Manchuria. Most of the work is among Korean immigrants, though Chinese, Japanese and Russian are also treated. The work of the hospital is carried on in close co-operation with activities of the native Korean Christian Church.

Mrs. C. A. Wickens gave the report of the advisory committee, indicating the completion of the hospital at Burns Lake, and mentioning the work carried on at the Alberni Indian Residential School. At Ahousaht, the school is full, having sixty-three pupils and a waiting list. The Grosby girls' home has accommodation for thirty, and one of the girl graduates is working at Port Simpson Hospital. The school at Kitimaat is also filled, having thirty-three children enrolled. A field nurse is also established there and on her rests the burden of the health of the village and school, the nearest doctor being 900 miles away. The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. E. Day Washington, showed receipts from Presbyterians amounting to $325.608. The bequest from the estate of Miss Clara May Bell of Kaslo amounted to $96.

Department reports included that of costumes by Mrs. C. S. Maharg, who stated costumes had been used by over twenty congregations, and total returns had $46. A decided increase in use of leaflets was noted by Miss M. Aison, literature secretary. Mrs. W. Scott reported 2,071 members in mission bands, with active mission work being carried out in making toys and sending out Christmas hampers. Membership in baby bands amounted to 106. Mrs. F. Oakley gave the press report.

In Tears With Pain
of Rheumatism

"For six weeks," a woman writes, "I had rheumatism, mostly in my feet and wrists. In fact, I have been in tears with the pain. Owing to stomach trouble, I could not take any kind of medicine, as it made me feel sick. So a lady said I should try Kruschen Salts. I am very thankful that I did so, for now I feel completely restored. I have not been taking anything else, so it must be Kruschen that has relieved me."—Mrs. C.

The six mineral salts of Kruschen have a direct effect upon the whole bloodstream, neutralizing uric acid, which is the recognized cause of rheumatism. They also restore the eliminating organs to proper working order, and so prevent constipation, thereby checking the further formation of uric acid and other body poisons which undermine the health. ## CHEVROLET ANNOUNCES

QUALITY
HIGHLIGHTS

SIX CYLINDER ENGINE—It develops 60 horsepower, is mounted in flexible rubber, and is easily the smoothest six-cylinder engine in the field—reaching mile-a-minute speed with no annoying vibration or apparent effort. Among the quality features of the power plant are pressure lubrication, down-draft carburetor, and crankcase ventilation.

FISHER BODIES—The new Chevrolet Standard Six is one of the most beautiful cars on the road. Its Fisher Body has the new wind-stream styling and skirter fenders that characterize the Master Six models.

NO-DRAFT VENTILATION—With Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, each passenger can regulate exactly the amount and direction of the air entering the car. The Standard Six is equipped with an improved type. A screened cow ventilator is available when maximum cooling is required. Doors are of the over-hanging bottom type, completely eliminating drafts.

SAFETY GLASS—A Duplate Safety Glass windshield, sloping at the non-glare 18 degree angle, is regular equipment on all Standard Six models. The ventilating wings are also made of Safety Glass.

TRANSMISSION—The second gear in the Standard Six transmission is as silent, even at high speeds, as the ordinary high gear, owing to the helical-cut constant mesh gears. And the whole transmission system is so constructed that shifting is quiet, effortless and fast.

OCTANE SELECTOR—Because the Octane Selector is exclusive to Chevrolet, no other cars are quite so economical. This invention, by providing the maximum efficiency in spark timing, gives you more miles of efficient performance for every dollar's worth of fuel by the simple setting of a needle.

A NEW LOWER-PRICED CAR

as a companion line
to the present series Chevrolet Six...

ANOTHER great new line of cars from the leader! Worthy companions to the present Chevrolet Master Six, world's most popular automobile! Today, Chevrolet presents the new Standard Six—at the lowest prices ever placed on Chevrolet six-cylinder closed cars.

Each body-type is a big, full-size, full-length automobile. Each is a completely new car throughout—the result of over two years' planning, developing, testing, and perfecting. And each is a Chevrolet in the fullest meaning of the name... featuring the same standards of quality... performance... dependability and economy that have made CHEVROLET the greatest name in low-priced motoring.

Like its big companion car, the Master Six, the new Chevrolet is made to order for Canadians. It has the features Canadian motorists asked for, in Chevrolet's great Dominion-wide automobile survey.

The introduction of this new car gives the Canadian public, for the first time in history, a full-size automobile in which maximum quality and maximum all-round economy meet on common ground. See this new Chevrolet Standard Six without fail. It's a car that every motorist in Canada will want to know all about—today!

Have Children the Right to Keep a Widowed Parent From Marrying?—Not When a Suitable Mate Is Selected, Says Dorothy Dix, for Then Both Children and Parent Will Benefit

WE HAVE all shed buckets of tears over the blighted romances of children whose selfish and possessive parents refused to let them marry the perfectly good boys and girls with whom they were in love because the fathers and mothers could not endure the thought of their sons and daughters caring more for anybody than they did for them, and leaving them.

But it is not always father or mother who is the self-centred, domestic tyrant, who ruthlessly sacrifices the happiness of others to his or her own jealous desire to monopolize a beloved one. Very often it is the children themselves who refuse to let a widowed parent marry because they do not wish any change made in their homes, or for dad and mamma to have any interest but themselves, or for anyone else to be put in the place of their dead father or mother.

And neither the parents who keep their children from marrying nor the children who prevent their parents from realizing how cruel they are in preventing another from having the happiness they have known or that they possess or are looking forward to enjoying.

Strangely enough, in these days of the emancipated younger generation, it is often the parents than the children who are the victims of these selfish monopolists in love. For the modern youngsters assert their right to live their own lives, but the parents have sacrificed themselves so long to the happiness of their children that they no longer have the courage to strike a blow for their own right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

There is hardly a day in which I do not get a letter from some widow or widower telling a pathetic tale of how his or her children are barring him or her from happiness by refusing to let him or her marry. Generally these widows and widowers are still in the prime of life with the prospect of many years of life before them.

They have refrained from marrying after they lost their mates because they would not risk the danger of putting a step-parent who might be cruel over their children and have made every conceivable sacrifice for them and devoted themselves to them. But now their children are grown and gone about the business of life for themselves. The nest is empty. Their task is accomplished. They are very lonely and they have found a woman or a man, suitable in every way, with whom they might re-establish their lives and find companionship.

But their children won't hear of it. Their children are horrified at the idea of mother or father getting married again. They say it won't be the same to come back to the old home with a new woman or man in it. They want to know why father or mother needs anyone to love when he or she has his or her children, and, if father or mother is lonely, why can't he or she come and live with them?

And these selfish children never stop to think that mother and father have an individuality of their own, and that they want to be happy in their own way and choose their own companions and have their own homes and that they are not satisfied just with being John's and Mary's father or mother and hangers-on in John's and Mary's homes and content with a little of John's and Mary's society when they happen to think to give it to them.

Nor does the idea ever percolate through the conceit of children that they are no more satisfying companions to their parents than their parents to them. They would be bored to death if they had no society except father and mother. They want some one who talks their own language, who does the things they do, who has the same background of experience that they have, and that is why they marry for companionship.

And by the same token it is why mother and father want the companionship of some one of their own generation, some one who waits to do the things they want to do, some one with the same memories. And it is why mother and father are lonely and bored living on the outskirts of their children's lives, with no one to whom they can reminisce about when automobiles were first invented and people used to say how silly it was for anybody to believe we could ever fly through the air.

Of course, it seems ridiculous to any child to think of father or mother falling in love at forty-five or fifty or sixty odd, but it happens, and these middle-aged romances, with their Indian summer of warm affection and tenderness and understanding, often bring to a man and woman a greater happiness than the fiery passion of their youth did. It is a heartless thing for the young, who have so much, to be willing to deprive their parents of anything that makes pleasant the last lap of the journey.

Above all, the young do not understand what having their own home means to the old. No man or woman who has been at the head of his or her household can ever fit gracefully into another household. Always there is bound to be friction, and the mother or father who is living with his or her children has either to be a self-effacing shadow or a perpetual storm center. That is why we have the in-law trouble.

Hence, for the sake of the happiness of the parents and for their own good children should not oppose their parents' marriage if father or mother has selected a suitable mate, but should bestow their blessing upon them.

And if the children do object, father or mother should just follow the good old Victorian custom of eloping and coming home to be forgiven afterward.

Exploring the Sky

Recently an eleven-year-old girl asked me: "What is on the sky? What is on the other side of it?"

Picard.

The "other side" of the sky, if there is such a thing, has never been seen. In ancient times, people supposed that the sky was a roof of some kind covered the earth; but now we know that there is no roof around the earth.

There is a blanket or layer of air around the earth, and in that air the clouds float about, pushed by breezes or strong winds. Last month there was much news in the papers about the visit of the Belgian professor, Auguste Picard, to our side of the Atlantic. We read about this professor in 1923 when he made his second trip into the "stratosphere," which is the rather calm—but very thin and very cold—air more than eight miles above the level of the sea. Picard used a balloon to lift himself and a companion into the air. Below the balloon was a metal ball (composed chiefly of aluminum), and this ball was the home of the adventurers while they were making their daring upward trip. It was fitted with small windows so they could look around.

Up, up, up went the balloon, until it reached the height of ten and one-half miles, the greatest height ever reached by man. At that point, the air was very cold; and the color of the sky was more purple than blue. The professor and his comrade, Max Cosna, started the trip from Switzerland. They reached their highest point at noon, and landed in Italy at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. If they had gone up 10,000,000 miles instead of ten miles, they would not have bumped into anything in the nature of a roof. With the help of their telescopes, men of science have learned that the stars are hundreds of millions of miles distant—some of them being trillions or quadrillions of miles away. When better telescopes have been made in the past, we have located stars farther and farther away. So far as we know, there is no limit to them. If there is an "end" to the sky, it has not been found and is not likely to be found for centuries to come.

LITTLE HOPE IN LAND POLICY

Col. Lister Does Not Think Unemployed Can Prosper on Land

Kamloops Member Gives Picture of His Constituency

Little chance of success was seen for the unemployed who turned their eyes towards the land and expected to make a success of farming on small capital by Colonel Fred Lister, Conservative, Creston, he told the Legislature yesterday.

Colonel Lister said he could criticize the government for some things it had done and commend it for others. He thought it had done as well as any would under the circumstances.

After contrasting investments in tax-free bonds and real estate, the speaker voiced a hope the Minister of Finance would be able to find some way of collecting from heavy holders of bonds who made no contribution to the provincial treasury.

REDISTRIBUTION
Since last session they had had a report made by the Kidd committee.

Some of their recommendations were all right; some were "hokey." The report's recommendations prompted the speaker to remark it was a sad day for British Columbia when people were so ignorant of it as their recommendations on redistribution proved members of this committee were, Col. Lister commented.

Noting the stimulus in the gold-mining industry the speaker hoped the Attorney-General would give consideration to making less harsh the terms of the Security Frauds Prevention Act. In its present form it was retarding the development of mines. It made it absolutely impossible for a prospector to get his property developed.

The speaker saw little hopes for easing the economic problem by a policy of putting people on the land. Unless they could step on to a place that a farmer was leaving he thought they had little chance of success.

Farmer weren't leaving; they had nowhere else to go.

J. R. Mitchell, Conservative, Kamloops, presented a list of the needs of his constituency. "If you need any good tomatoes or potatoes call on Kamloops," he urged the members of the House, he gave an interesting account of the institutions and industries of the district.

SZIGETI WILL APPEAR HERE

Noted Violinist Will Give Concert in Victoria at Shrine on March 27

When violin students, at the close of one of Joseph Szigeti's recitals, leave their seats to gather nearer the stage for an intimate view of the violinist, their desire is obviously to examine at first hand the various recitals by which this distinguished artist weaves his spell. As he plays his concerto they try to penetrate into the deeper recesses of his playing methods to discover some new secret which they hope to appropriate for their own use.

There are many things to be learned from Mr. Szigeti, through conference with him. He is most affable and most anxious to give out such information as would help students to higher achievement.

Two rows of seats will be reserved for young violin students very close to the stage when Joseph Szigeti plays in Victoria Monday, March 27, at the Shrine Auditorium. Every seat in the auditorium will be reserved and numbered, and the plan of seating is as follows: Music Store on Yates Street. Mail orders may be sent now, making cheques payable to Mrs. J. O. Cameron, who is managing the Shrine recital. The box office will be open Monday morning, March 13, at 10 o'clock.

Northfield Man Arrested To-day

Nanaimo, March 10.—George Mountenay of Northfield, was this morning remanded for eight days, by Magistrate Trevor Potts, on a charge of being in possession of stolen goods. The goods were stated to be part of the loot taken from the warehouse of the Nanaimo Co-operative Association and Vancouver Milling Co. at Parkville on Tuesday night.

No arrests have yet been made on charges of participating in the thefts.

PILES
Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause of Piles to be internal congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins (piles). The blood, which is the cause of the most distress, is not the blood itself, but the congestion. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1,000 patients he has cured in over 900 cases. He named his prescription HEM-ROID. The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and there will be no doubting or delay. McFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.

COLDSTREAM

To the Editor:—The familiarity of Victorians with the name "Coldstream" is probably the cause of the confusion that has led The Times in its issue yesterday evening to rename the factory "Coldstream" ranch as the "Coldstream." The name was chosen by the English aristocratic association at the time of its founding by the Earl of Aberdeen and Lord Woolton. As one who came down from the Okanagan a few months ago, I can assure you that the residents of that beautiful spot really do not know what distinguished associations are jeopardized by their tendency to change the "C" into a more familiar "O."

MADE THE FIRST TRIP

To the Editor:—I noticed in Saturday's Times that your correspondents, W. Webster and McMillan, claim to be the first to motor through the Snake River Pass in the Cascade Mountains. I would like to state that my friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Peter, of Okanagan, left in January, leaving Wayne, Alberta, in January 24, traveling through the Rockies, the Kootenays and Cascade Mountains, coming to the Snake River Pass on Saturday, January 30, arriving Vancouver on Monday, January 30.

The trip was made in a four-cylinder Pontiac car, and they encountered enormous difficulties and terrific snowstorms. They reported seeing houses completely snowed up, and the tops of the poles barely visible in many places.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter, with whom I made the trip down to Alton in September 1932, are prepared to verify this statement and will give names of hotels stopped at, also names of garages where car was refilled with gas, oil, etc.

TAKE 'EM OFF BOYS!

To the Editor:—In last night's issue of your paper, you quote as an example of the Legislature, three hundred and fifty-one children of incarcerated Doukhobors are being cared for at a cost of seventy-five cents per day, and getting into a state of worse confusion than ever, and I could not help connecting this remark with the manner in which some of our politicians propose to put the affairs of our railways in order. With the definite knowledge that our various govern-

OLD AGE PENSIONS

To the Editor:—As this is a matter of great interest to many unfortunate old people, I hope you will publish it, as it is only right that the public should know how the so-called Old Age Pension is administered. There is no such thing as an Old Age Pension in British Columbia. A man who has been pensioned in the United States and has been of no use in the world to himself or anyone else, unless it is the government booze business, as the pension is paid him broken in health through dissipation and penniless. He can get a pension, also those who can bring pull to bear on the officials.

The man who has lived a useful life, raised a family, and by industry and economy accumulated sufficient property to care for his old age under ordinary conditions, finds that under present conditions his property is an encumbrance instead of bringing in an income, and he must see the savings of his lifetime swept away via the tax sale route. There is no pension for him even if he is eighty years old, and has paid in thousands of dollars to the government.

To make sure that this class of applicants should not receive help, our wonderfully intelligent government passed an act to compel his children to support him, whether they are in a position to do it or not. He must be thankful if he has a covering over his head and something to eat, even if it is the bread of dependence, when the pension is his by right.

There is no old age pension in British Columbia.

NOW'S THE TIME

To the Editor:—In looking back to previous elections one wonders if the people are going to be guided, or if they will continue the good work already started. We have the Conservative Party (who know they are doomed) leaving their old standard one day to form a new party with a new head, the same old line of politicians, trying to fool the public into believing they are leaving something new for something just black. If it were possible for this party to better conditions for British Columbia why have they not succeeded under any name or head? I would like to see a new party, one that is close up the big house over the way altogether. We have a Union of Municipalities which I think is doing all the work at the present time, and if any of the members think they can serve their country, let them come.

forward into the municipalities and work for $30 a month. We could arrange ward councils where the citizens would meet to discuss their own legislation, to be carried out by the municipalities. There is too much duplication of taxation for which the taxpayers receive no benefits and are not even able to secure the information as to how the money is utilized. BRITISH COLUMBIA LUMBER

To the Editor:—With reference to J. O. Cameron's letter in your issue of March 8, I am pleased to supply him with the information, as I have received it. It is part of a report of the lumbermen's convention then being held at the Vancouver Sun, dated June 9, 1932. The following is an exact copy, word-for-word:

"The British Columbia association will endorse the demand of the eastern organization at once, it was stated."

"The principal item of U.S. lumber imports into Canada is softwood, usually pine, used by manufacturers, automobile makers and machinery makers, for crating shipments."

"An estimate taken from official statistics puts the total import from U.S. in 1932 of lumber that could be supplied from British Columbia at approximately 225,000,000 feet, valued at something like $10,000,000."

"This appeared in other local papers at the time and I have not seen it contradicted. I am not connected with the timber business in any way whatsoever, but am interested in the welfare of the province of British Columbia, of which I have been a resident for forty-five years. In this case I thought something was being overlooked. I am sorry that I did not keep a full copy of the issue of The Vancouver Sun of the above date (and not a clipping only). It would appear that the eastern lumbermen's organizations were afraid to make the protest, which would suggest that the statement is practically correct."

ments have miserably failed in the management of these and I may say in practically every business venture they have undertaken, our Parliament still proposes to run the railways and will assuredly do so, as they always have, piling debt upon debt until they "break" the concern they are trying to mend. I may here remark that the sum of $545,027,430 was paid in interest alone on Canadian National Railway bonds from 1920 to 1932. Can anything be more fooling when they can choose sound and sensible businessmen with years of railway experience and of proven ability, who are willing to undertake this work. As an instance of the want of foresight of our government, I will mention one incident which came under my personal knowledge. For many years I resided in the Okanagan Valley. Two C.P.R. lines served that valley, one entering from Siamois at the north, the south end being served by the Kettle Valley railway. The two steamers connected the two ends of the lake. These railways just made enough to pay a small percentage of interest on the capital expended. There is too much duplication of taxation for which the taxpayers receive no benefits and are not even able to secure the information as to how the money is utilized. Now is the time, before we are offered some cheap legislation to keep us quiet, to strike while the iron is hot and improve this province of ours and show the rest of Canada how to get out of the job of producing better times under the peoples rule.

"Ebb-Tide," By A. M. D. Fairbairn. Will Be Presented at B.C. Drama Festival

Doreen Wilson, Alan King and Roy Shadbolt Won Honors Yesterday Evening

By M. A.

Mrs. Doreen Wilson, Alan King and Roy Shadbolt, the cast of A. M. D. Fairbairn's "Ebb-Tide," will journey to Vancouver to participate in the B.C. Drama Festival's provincial play-off for the right to compete at Ottawa, as a result of the preliminary contests held yesterday evening in the Crystal Garden Theatre. The competitive play-off was a very enjoyable and interesting event, and received added attractiveness from the instructive criticisms of the adjudicator, Frank Johnstone.

Apart from the other honours of the evening, the occasion may be considered something of a personal success for Mr. Fairbairn, who not only won for his own plays on the programme but was his own director and also the leading actor in his first production, "A Pacific Coast Tragedy."

Both Mr. Fairbairn's compositions are imbued with the West Coast Indian version of the east is east and west is west, and the physical movement, tend to build up a strikingly impressive atmosphere of strain, of blood clash of two peoples of different blood, of the will-less "darkness" of the Indian shadowing the moral resistance of the white, and the persistence of the hopelessness of mixed blood and of Indian life—this is almost a thesis in his two plays, and it is a tribute to his facility of expression that, within the short space of a single act in each case, he can make his characters and their motives convincing.

Of the winning play, which came last on the programme, Mr. Johnstone said that its three roles were even and well co-ordinated. Miss Wilson, as the young school teacher in the Indian village, gave a nice, sympathetic performance, "he said, and Billy (Mr. Shadbolt) was a clever piece of character work."

Mr. King as Dick acted "artificially."

In fact, it is doubtful whether Mr. King, by now well known to the local stage, has ever successfully played a part so white going to pieces under the influence of Indian surroundings and the memory of a past from which he fled, he acted with fine expression of gesture and voice, and sustained a reserved performance to the end. Miss Wilson, as the white girl, also with past and just beginning to feel the influence of the Indian influence, was usually firm, and it was between her and Mr. Shadbolt, as the healthy quarter-breed, that the fight against the Indian influence succeeded in building up a truly moving image.

"I see now how impossible it all is," he words again, Mr. Hume, the young missionary (Mr. Fairbairn), heir to a baronetcy and husband of a squaw, is presented as a Pacific Coast play, with everything falling about him; his breed son a murderer, his breed daughter, a "no good girl" with a child, and his wife beginning to feel the influence of the Indian influence, with premonition of death in the family. In addition to Mr. Fairbairn, Archie MacCorkindale, as the breed lover of the daughter, deserves a mention, for his part was a comparative newcomer to the local stage, while Noel Cusack, as the girl, and Ethel Reese Burns, as the squaw, did fine work.

The Victoria Little Theatre's production, Merrill Denison's "Brothers-in-Arms" was always interesting in the best sense of the word, the attention being held by the play, which was a quartette of players who were obviously experienced and taking pleasure in creating their separate characters. Art Kerr, the hoodlum, was really solid and convincing, as was "from the inside out" while Betty Hetherington was sweet as the business-man-on-hunting-trip, and the other two players were simple and direct in the wilds. "Bunny" Hume was again quietly convincing as a second backwoodsman, and Les Hardie made an efficient business man.

"Brothers-in-Arms" had many delightfully humorous sallies in it, as did Arnold Bennett's "The Stepmother," staged by the Bears Arms, which, however, was more trifling than the Denison composition and, although by the most famous author, was perhaps the least consequential play on the programme.

As the adjudicator remarked, the two actresses in the Bennett play were stronger than the two actors. Margaret Van Vooght and Orrie Bluff, as the novelist and secretary, respectively, were delightfully in rapport in their scenes. As an irrelevant footnote, it was surprising how suggestive of George Bernard Shaw Edward Simmons was in his first appearance as the lover of the secretary's lover and two entranced couples were surprised as a rising curtain caught them in a whirlwind finish.

It is interesting to report that Mr. Johnstone, in his final remarks, expressed an opinion that better and stronger plays might have been chosen and he added this might well be seen to at next year's festival. There was talent awaiting congenial soil in which to flower, and it was the best plays which would hasten this process, he observed.

By the time the curtain arose on the first production of the evening there was a standing room only, the overflow audience including His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mayor and Mrs. Leeming.

Following his introduction by Major I. Bullock-Webster, Mr. Johnstone in his preliminary remarks outlined the standard method of marking which would be used at Vancouver and Ottawa. Fifty marks were given for acting, twenty for audibility of speech, ten for tone and emphasis, and five for gesture and movement; thirty-five marks were set aside for production, divided into groups for intelligent portrayal and grasp of the author's intention and meaning, ten for teamwork and grouping and ten for making points and sense of fitness; the remaining fifteen marks went to the production, including five for atmosphere, five for scenery, properties and lighting, and five for costumes and make-up.

Backstage, organized Herbert E. Potts, honorary organizing secretary; Roy Goldfinch, stage manager; Capt. Stanhope Marchant, assistant stage manager; Ted Cotton, chief boy; Harold G. Hutton, treasurer; Ethel B. Bain, box office; Archie MacCorkindale, tickets; Mrs. D. E. Whyte, head usher; Mrs. G. Storey Waller, publicity; and Sandro Butcher-Webster, adjudicator's messenger.

Johnny Risko Refuses to Occupy Grave in Fistic Boneyard

Babe Ruth Seems Destined to Always Hold the Spotlight

New York Scribe Has Novel View on Girls in Athletics

SEVEN YEARS ago boxing experts dug a grave in the boneyard for Johnny Risko. Then he amazed everybody by beating the head off Paul Berlenbach. Three years later he was definitely washed up again when one of Max Schmeling's right hand hooks pitched from somewhere out in the audience, caught him flush on the jaw and knocked him stiff on his feet. That was in 1929. But Johnny kept right on fighting in the sticks, engaging in bouts against a number of unknown batters, with indifferent success.

Something must have happened for the better in 1931. Johnny made only three starts against Mickey Walker, Tuffy Griffiths and King Levinsky, and he won all three. Recently he showed a lot of fans in Madison Square Garden that those rumors of his ring demise were greatly exaggerated when he beat the ambitious King Levinsky again. Risko has always claimed that Schmeling beat him with a lucky punch and that he was far ahead of the German and would have won on points but for a moment of carelessness.

Babe Ruth is just one of those fellows that things happen to. He swings at baseballs and they ride out of the park. He spends his money foolishly and the whole world knows about it. Then he reforms and that is news again. All his life he has been in the front of the newspapers. When he was a pitcher he was a star. Then when he became an outfielder he developed into the greatest sensation the game ever knew. He takes up golf and his manager makes him stop it. Then he persuades his manager that golf is good for him and he goes on playing it.

The other day in Florida while playing golf with a trio of celebrities he scored a hole-in-one. It just had to be the Babe that got the "dodo." No athlete gets more fan mail than the same Ruth, but he doesn't answer very much of it. One of his pet superstitions is that it is bad luck to open letters and as a consequence his locker at the New York Stadium is usually jammed with mail from his many followers.

Paul Gallico, noted New York sports writer, has come out with a new book on women in athletics. He's after the girl athletes and their right to compete in track and field races. No doubt his views will not be shared by many, but they are interesting, to say the least.

He writes as follows: "The evening show with the men was the most exciting but the afternoon performance in which the girls ran and jumped and hurdled themselves dizzy was something to talk about, too. I don't know why girls want to go in for that sort of thing. If they could see themselves coming into the finish of a relay or a sprint, they'd probably never run again. It is a great shock to be down on the floor and close to the action and see the twisted, straining, agonized faces of these young things, their strain for victory."

"None of the lady track athletes can be called beauties and few of them have fine figures. And if they had those dreadful track suits they wear they would ruin them anyway. And even if they were pretty, I wouldn't want to see their faces as they near the point of exhaustion. Swimming and skating seem to be all right for the girls, but track and field—nix. If anything looks sillier than a girl putting the shot, I want to know."

"I was so impressed with the tremendous effort that the girls were putting forth and the pained expressions it gave them, that I particularly watched the faces of the men that night. The same distortion is seen, but it doesn't disturb one so much. The fighting faces of men are normal. A man becomes a dramatic animal when he grins his teeth, sets his jaw and carries on in spite of fatigue and approaching exhaustion. The faces of Cunningham and Venzke were magnificent studies in determination, fatigue and the will to win as they fought their classic three-lap duel to the finish of the race. Both were stricken, and neither would give up."

"But I saw a somewhat similar finish between two girls in the afternoon and it was neither pretty nor particularly thrilling. Their heads were thrown back, their eyes screwed up into slits, their faces torn in queer and horrid shapes, and their mouths were twisted as they fought for air. When the race was over, they were paraded around by friends, their legs shaking, faces flushed red and their heads hanging wearily. The whole effect was incredibly disgusting. Daring, why do you do it?"

Freddie Miller In One-sided Victory

Sacramento, Cal., March 10.—Freddie Miller, world featherweight champion by edict of the N.B.A., punched his way to an easy ten-round decision over Jack Dempsey, Philadelphia, here yesterday evening. Dempsey weighed 120 and Miller 125 in the non-title fight. The Filipino was outclassed by the champion's boxing and footwork.

RANGERS SLICE DETROIT'S LEAD

Lester Patrick's Club Whips Red Wings 3 to 2; Boston Defeats Americans

New York Americans' hopes of entering the National Hockey League's playoffs were dimmer today as Canadiens shook free of the Canadian group third-place deadlock with a 3 to 1 win over Montreal Maroons yesterday evening, while Americans lost, 4 to 2, at Boston. Canadiens now enjoy a two-point advantage over Americans for the coveted third-place berth, and a four-game margin in games won. They count in event of a point-tie at the end of the schedule.

Detroit's chances of finishing first in their group were lessened when New York Rangers took a close 3 to 2 decision at New York to cut Red Wings' lead over Boston by two points. Rangers kept one point behind the Bostonians and have six more games to play against three for Detroit and five for Boston.

The only other game yesterday evening ended in a 3 to 3 tie between Chicago Black Hawks and Ottawa Senators.

Flashing speed of Howie Morenz led his red-shirted teammates to victory over Montreal's N.H.L. entry. Morenz scored in each of the first two periods to supply the winning margin. His first marker came after Wildor Larochele counted on a pass from "Battleship" Leduc. Hooley Smith took Jimmy Ward's flip for Maroon's lone goal.

CLAPPER IS STAR

Dit Clapper ruined Americans' chances of victory at Boston as the right winger accounted for three Bruin goals. Nels Stewart was credited with the other Boston goal when Bill Regan out the puck into his own net. Johnny Sheppard netted both Americans' goals. Cecil Dillon broke up a 2 to 2 deadlock in the third period at New York with the aid of giant Ching Johnson and Fred Boucher. Prior to that Doug Brennan's first-period goal was matched by Johnny Sorrell's marker in the second when Detroit held the lead on a goal by Bill Cook.

Ottawa Senators appeared to have the game won when Ching Johnson scored a goal in the third period until Chicago's closing rally netted enough goals to tie the game. Roger Jenkins, Tommy Cook and Billy Burch scored within three minutes to wipe out Senators' lead gathered through Danny Cox, Cooney Weiland and Syd Howe at a goal-a-period rate.

Montreal, March 10.—National Hockey League play-offs looked nearer the reach of Canadiens as they beat Detroit Maroons 3 to 1 here yesterday evening, and took exclusive possession of third place in the Canadian section standing. New York Americans dropped their game at Boston, 4 to 2, and dropped out of third-place tie with Canadiens. Canadiens earned their victory yesterday evening through a stubborn and careful defense as Maroon snipers swarmed over the Canadiens' end of the ice for long stretches and left their own defense to Goalside Dave Kerr.

SUMMARY

First period—1. Canadiens, Larochele (Leduc), 7:55; 2. Maroons, Smith (Ward), 14:15; 3. Canadiens, Morenz (Joliat), 18:33. Penalties: Morenz, Northcott and Conacher. Second period—4. Canadiens, Morenz, 11:49. Penalties: Gagnon, Northcott, Leduc, Conacher and Trotter. Third period—No score. Penalties: None.

J.B.A.A. To Meet Collegians For Rugby Laurels

Both Teams Trained to Peak For City Senior B Title Struggle To-morrow

Winners to Meet Mainland Champs

Hopes Run High in Rival Camps as Final Preparations For Game Are Made

Rugby forces of Victoria College and the James Bay Athletic Association were being marshalled to-day for the first senior B city championship final ever played in Victoria and indications point to one of the smartest games of the season as they clash at Oak Bay Park at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Both squads have been trained to the peak for the fixture and although Bobby Armstrong, who has also been down with a cold, is expected to play wing three-quarter, with Rooney, Scott, Bruce Lowe and John Beck completing the line, Don Stewart will probably play stand-off half and Stevie Stevens scrum half.

In the opening clash, at 7:15 o'clock, Duncan senior C squad will play the J.B.A.A. senior C team. Three-quarters of an hour later the senior B men are slated to meet the Bays senior B quintette, and at 8:45 the girls' teams of the two clubs are scheduled to play in the final match of the evening.

Following the games, the visiting players will be the guests of the rowing club at a dance in the club quarters.

will be playing fullback for the Bays. Bobby Armstrong, who has also been down with a cold, is expected to play wing three-quarter, with Rooney, Scott, Bruce Lowe and John Beck completing the line. Don Stewart will probably play stand-off half and Stevie Stevens scrum half.

Barrett Webb, Montclair, Bill Barrett, Brian Tobin and Dick George will be included in the pack. The two other forwards have not yet been named.

BAYS WILL PLAY DUNCAN CAGERS

James Bay Athletic Association basketball teams will play Duncan representatives in a trio of hoop fixtures at the Gorge gym on Saturday evening.

BAYS SHOWING WELL

On their previous performances and recent exhibition against the club's senior A team, the Bays should have a slight psychological edge over their student opponents. In the first half the rowing club sent the Craigdarroch boys down to a 13 to 3 defeat. When they met in the second game, the Bays squeezed through with a 5 to 0 verdict. They will be out to repeat their two victories when they take the field to-morrow.

W.A. Fry Named For A.A.U. Post

Edmonton, March 10.—W. A. Fry, Dunsmuir, Ont., has been elected to the presidency of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, according to an announcement made here yesterday by John Leslie, secretary of the union.

Mr. Leslie, the vacancy caused when J. H. Crocker was elected to the presidency of the union in December. The new vice-president was elected by the executive in a mail vote which closed Saturday.

BAYS WILL PLAY DUNCAN CAGERS

INTERMEDIATE GAMES

In the intermediate division Fifth Regiment and the Wanderers are expected to furnish the feature at Oak Bay pitch, while University School is given a good chance of overcoming the second Victoria College team at Victoria High grounds.

GAMES WILL START AT 3 O'CLOCK

The Wanderers will line-up as follows: Shepherd, Laver, Simpson, Cox, Marshall, Latta, McConnan, Angus, Allen, Rotham, Pangman, Colley, Gornall, Gorman and Shepherd.

The Wednesday To Battle Newcastle In Feature Match

By Robert Edgren

Leaders in Scottish First Division Will Engage in Important Fixtures

London, March 10.—Sheffield Wednesday will have to trot out their best soccer to-morrow if they hope to keep within sniping distance of Arsenal, English League first division football leaders. The Wednesday, who have battled their way up to within two points of the Gunners, find Newcastle United barring their path, while the leaders coming upon Leicester City outfit they should have little difficulty in sweeping aside.

Sheffield Wednesday should win, but Newcastle are strong enough to defeat them, if they are not at their best, while Gunners should be able to take Leicester City, even if they are not playing up to scratch.

Once proud leaders of the division, Aston Villa meet a coming threat to their holding even third place to-morrow. They are now three points ahead of the fourth place Newcastle United, but West Bromwich Albion, trailing the Villa by four points, journey to Birmingham primed to take another fall out of the slipping Villans, and will be putting everything they have into the fixture.

EXPECT FINE MATCHES

A stern struggle will be seen in four towns when Wolverhampton Wanderers, Chelsea, Middlesbrough and Leicester City battle on their own grounds against more formidable opponents in an effort to get out of the bottom of the heap. These four teams are at present in relegation.

West Ham United intends to stage the "iron man" stunt and disregard all belief it is unwise for a team still in the cup competition to over-crowd its programme with league games. They meet Everton in the semi-finals for the cup, March 18, but in the fortnight previous to that date, propose to play a total of five matches.

They are at present in eighteenth place in the second division, however, and will not be expected to over-exert themselves in a league fixture.

AFTER LEADERS

Tottenham Hotspurs and Bury will bring their big guns into action to-morrow, when they attempt to overtake Stoke City, now leading them by two points at the top of the second division standing. Should both win, the Spurs will be level with Bury on Oldham, and Notts County defeat Stoke, the race would be a wide open affair with the trio tied for first position in the league fixtures.

Norwich City and Exeter will be aiming at an advance on Brentford, third division southern leaders. Norwich and Exeter are level on Bournemouth, which should win from Bournemouth, but Brentford probably will continue in the lead by brushing aside Crystal Palace.

Leading teams in the third division, northern probably will continue with the positions unchanged after to-morrow's encounters. Hull City play Manchester United, and should win, and victories for Wrexham over Carlisle United and Chester over Halifax Town are expected.

JOE CALDER IS HELD TO DRAW

Engages in Fast Six-round Bout With Jackie Caston in Seattle Ring

Seattle, March 10.—Jackie Caston, 122, Seattle, and Joe Calder, 121, Manila, battled six fast rounds to a draw yesterday evening at the White Center Arena. Caston finished strong to overcome Calder's early lead.

WONG CHEONG WINS

Pusie Reported Sold to Rangers

Calgary, March 10.—Gene Pusie, colorful defence star of Vancouver Maroons in the Western Canada Hockey League, has been sold to New York Rangers of the National Hockey League. It is understood Pusie is reported to have been the deal yesterday. Pusie, leading scorer of the western circuit, will report to Rangers at the opening of the 1933-34 season.

HOLD-OUTS ARE VERY STUBBORN

Many Leading Players in Major Baseball Leagues Refuse to Accept Contracts

Ruth, Gehrig, Frisch, Ferrell, Vance and Wilson Still on the Outside

New York, March 10.—Chastened by the historical financial upheaval of the past few days, baseball's holdouts are sliding into line all along the southern front, but there is still an "all-star team," headed by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, doggedly defying the lightning of depression and mortality, as well as the wrath of well-patched club owners, from the side lines.

How would a cast like this, for instance, do in a pennant race in either the American or the National League? First base—Lou Gehrig, Yankees, with Don Hunt, Phillies, and Harley Boss, Cleveland, as reserves. Second base—Frankie Frisch, St. Louis Cardinals. Shortstop—Bill Urbanski, Boston Braves. Third base—Joe Stripp, Brooklyn.

Outfield—Babe Ruth, Yankees; Heinie Manush, Washington; Hack Wilson, Brooklyn, with Dick Porter, Cleveland, and Vince Barton, Chicago Cubs, as reserves. Pitchers—Ves Ferrell and Willis Hladin, as an included Manager Bill Haddock, Dick Coffman, all St. Louis Browns; Dazzy Vance and Jim Lincecum, Cardinals; Bob Burke, Washington, and Larry Barton, Chicago, Reds.

Calculus—Rick Ferrell, Browns, and Moe Berg, Washington.

ALL STUBBORN

The one and only Ruth, though he is in camp with the world champion Yankees at St. Petersburg, insists he will retire from baseball before he will accept the $50,000 that represents a 33 1/3 per cent cut from last year's salary. Gehrig has not headed south, either. Frankie Frisch is staying home until the Cardinals offer better than $8,000 for a year's work. Frankie drew $15,000 last year.

Bill Ubranski, crack young shortstop of the Braves and one of the new major league players reported to have been offered an increase for the coming season, has so included Manager Bill Haddock by this failure to report, that the manager suggested he remain all summer in Perth-Amboy, N.J., tending to his barber shop. But he is still feeling very stubborn toward the Indians.

Oregon Will Have Legalized Racing

New York, March 10.—Oregon yesterday joined Washington among the latest states turning to horse racing, with legalized betting systems, as a new source of revenue. Both have taken legislative action within the past week.

This raises to nine the total of states which legalize both racing and wagering. The sport is conducted in three states, California, Ohio and New York, under some restrictions, but with no revenue going to these states. Legislation is pending in nineteen other states, looking toward recognition of either racing or betting or both. Two of these states this week, New Hampshire and Missouri, favorable action has been obtained in one branch of the legislature.

Announce Draw For Darcus Cup Event

The draw for the Darcus Cup competition, which will be played at the Uplands Golf Club to-morrow, was released yesterday. The tourney is three rounds of eighteen holes each, under full handicap. Mrs. W. C. Angus is leading the field and will be out to maintain her position.

PAIRINGS FOLLOW

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Pocock and Miss Miller, Mrs. Semple and Mrs. Nickson, Mrs. Macdonald and Miss Wolfenden, Mrs. Angus and Miss Robinson.

take the championship. Queens probably will keep pace with them this week-end by defeating Purfir, but as long as the leaders keep winning games, Queens cannot catch them.

Dufferin, third place holders, should have a fairly easy win over Dundee United, but Dufferin, playing them by a point, have a slender advantage in meeting St. John's at home. Should the latter win, Faith Rowett will probably overtake St. John's. They are strong favorites to beat Montrose.

Second British Empire

Big Sports Meet For 1934 Changed From South Africa

Latter Country Unable to Put on Games When Color Problem Draws Fire

EVENTS WILL BE MORE EXTENSIVE

Women Participate in Additional Competitions; Good Representation Expected

London, March 10.—The second British Empire Games, originally awarded to South Africa, will be held here in 1934, it was announced to-day by Sir James Leigh-Wood, chairman of the games committee. The first games were held at Hamilton, Ont., in 1930.

Both South Africa and Australia, Sir James said, were unwilling to go ahead with organization of the event in 1934, and though Canadian officials had offered to stage the games again, they had acceded to England's wish to have them here.

More extensive than four years ago, the 1934 programme would call for events in track and field for both men and women, swimming for both sexes and boxing, wrestling, cycling and bowling for men. Women athletes took part only in swimming at the Hamilton Games.

Sir James said it was hoped to hold track events at the White City Stadium near London. It was undecided where other sports would be held, but he thought it likely that swimming and cycling would be staged in other parts of England. Lord Derby is president of the council in charge of the meet.

GOOD REPRESENTATION

It is considered likely here that both South Africa and Australia would send athletes to the games as well as Canada, New Zealand, Scotland, Irish Free State and possibly British Guiana and other smaller possessions. These were all represented at Hamilton.

The color problem balked efforts to have South Africa undertake staging of the games. The South African Amateur Athletic Union stipulated that colored athletes would not be permitted to compete at Cape Town, and other countries, including Canada and England, objected.

KEATING CUP PLAY TO-NIGHT

West Road and Lake Hill Basketball teams will clash in the final of their series for the Keating Cup at the Lake Hill Gym this evening.

The Lake Hill quintettes will go into the fray this evening with a twenty-one point lead as the result of their showings against the West Roaders a short time ago.

In the opening clash the West Road senior C squad will play the Hill K. of P. in a fixture which will also count in the Owens Cup series. Live Wines will oppose the Lake Hill women in the second fixture and in the final, Singers, senior B Island champions, will take the floor against Lake Hill seniors.

The combined score of the three games will be totaled and added to that of the first round to decide the winners of the cup.

Following the games visiting teams will be the guests of the Lake Hill players at a supper and dance.

Young Stribling Gets Suspension

Paris, March 10.—Young Stribling, United States heavyweight boxer, to-day was suspended for three months by the council of the French boxing federation for his unsatisfactory bout Monday night with Pierre Charles, Belgium.

Stribling was disqualified for holding and the decision given to Charles in the eighth round of their ten-round bout.

EDDIE SHORE IS COLORFUL

Boston Defence Star Was Popular Choice For N.H.L. All-star Line-up

Product of Western Canada Hockey; Proves Great Play-maker This Year

Boston, March 10.—Hockey's greatest team would be incomplete without Eddie Shore, 190-pound Boston defenceman, all but one of thirty-two sports writers of cities in the National Hockey League loop decided in a vote taken for the 1933 Canadian Press all-star team.

Since he joined the Bruins in 1928 as a blonde, rosy-cheeked youngster of twenty-one, Shore has been the league's most colorful defenceman and as the Bruins speed into the play-offs this spring, his stout defensive work, speed and play-making ability take a large part in their success.

Puck-carrying talent of the big Edmonton wheel-farmer has placed him ahead of all other defencemen in the league as a point-maker, a position he has held in other seasons, but this year play-making is his specialty. He has assisted in twenty-three goals and scored five for a total of twenty-eight, more than many forwards can show in their records.

WESTERN CANADA PRODUCT

Prior to his debut with Boston Shore played all his hockey in Western Canada. Winnipeg saw him play his first real amateur hockey with St. John's College before he joined the famous Melville Millionaires of Saskatchewan. He turned professional with Regina in the prairie league in 1924 and spent the following season with Edmonton Eskimos before he was bought by Boston.

A hard aggressive player with a sneaky frame that lends itself readily to robust body-checks, Shore makes his home with Mrs. Shore and Edward W. Jr. at Edmonton in the summer. Mrs. Shore was formerly Miss Kate McBee of the champion Edmonton Grads basketball team, they were married in 1929.

SEATTLE BOWLER ROLLS BIG SCORE

Seattle, March 10.—Ted Tadich, Tacoma, yesterday evening rolled a brilliant 704 total within eleven pins of a new season's record, to lead the Pacific Match bowlers to a 3 to 0 victory over the Westfield and Goldboro team in the Northwest Major Bowling League. The win put them in a tie with Rippe's Cafe for the league lead.

RALLIES TO WIN

Stockton, Calif., March 10.—Fred Feary, 217-pound Stockton battler, rolled into a tough opponent in Jack Petrie, 210. San Jose, here yesterday evening but came through to take a six-round decision.

All-British Final In Florida Tourney

Belleair, Fla., March 10.—Two of England's outstanding feminine golfers won their semi-final matches yesterday to make an all-British final for the Belleair women's golf championship to-day. Diana Fishwick, British women's closed and French open titleholder, trounced Kathleen Garnham, another English entry, 8 and 7, while Barbara Pymon, eliminated Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, 4 and 2.

Nanaimo To Field Strong Eleven For Intercity Soccer

Same Team That Trounced St. Andrews 8 to 0 to Perform Here To-morrow

Victoria Fields First Class Club

Victoria and District League Teams Will Meet in Jackson Cup Fixtures

To-morrow afternoon's feature soccer attraction will see the Victoria Coast League intercity team engage Nanaimo at the Athletic Park, starting at 3.30 o'clock. The up-island team will bring down the same club that handed Vancouver St. Andrew's an 8 to 0 setback last Sunday. In a preliminary fixture the Saanich Thistles and Esquimalt second division clubs will meet at 2 o'clock. A large crowd is looked for.

Fans will see a new goalie in the Nanaimo nets, in the person of Glover. He is reported to be a first class custodian and starred in the win over St. Andrews.

Edmunds and English two fine backs, will be in front of Glover, while Boyd, Knight and McGregor will form the half line. White will start at right wing, flanked on the inside position by Green. Ray Watchorn will be at centre-forward, while Kulai and Sandilay will form the left wing combination. Inkester, Bevis, Reid and Gray will be on the substitute list and will probably be put in the game before the finish.

Victoria's team as selected last Monday will remain intact for the match. Louis de Costa, one of British Columbia's leading goalies, will guard the local nets, while Joe Crowe and Fred Gibbons will be at fullback. Ronnie Williams, Bill Boyd and Tommy Smith will start on the middle line. Harry Youson, "Scotty" Stewart, Fred Prior, Ernie Besteridge and Mike Wagland are the opening forwards. Joe Watt and Terry Peers are the substitutes, and are expected to see action before the final whistle.

Ralph Alcock will referee and John McKinnon and George Davies will act as line-men.

Members of the Victoria team are asked to meet at the Tillicum Gymnasium to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

The Esquimalt second division team will be as follows: Baker, Wallace, Rawlins, Parker, Day, Collins, Lindley, Webster, Alexander, S. Hicks, Banks and W. Hicks. Players are asked to meet at Head Street at 1.50 o'clock for transportation.

The Saanich Thistles second division team will be as follows: Morrison, Campbell, Duncan, E. Ewing, J. Campbell, D. Mowat, Chapman, McNaught, Pearce, J. Ewing, G. Mowat.

Victoria and District League teams will play in Jackson Cup matches to-morrow afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.

Charles Ruffing Signs With Yanks

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 10.—Charles (Red) Ruffing, the leading pitcher of the "Yankee" New York Yankees, yesterday arrived at camp with his signed contract, reducing the list of holdouts to two—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Ruth started training with the main squad Wednesday, awaiting the arrival of Colonel Jacob Ruppert for a conference, and Gehrig thus is the only player not in camp.

Trail Ice Squad Captures Seventh Successive Title

Smoke-eaters Score Third Straight Win Over Vancouver in B.C. Final

TRAIL JUNIORS BADLY TROUNCED

Drop 6 to 0 Decision to Calgary; Regina Aces and Saskatoon in Draw

Vancouver, B.C., March 10.—Trail Smoke Eaters, provincial hockey champions of B.C., annexed their seventh straight provincial title when they defeated Vancouver Maple Leafs, 2 to 0, here yesterday evening. Brennan and Buckna scored the winning goals.

It was Trail's third straight win in the three out of five series which carried the right to represent B.C. in the Western Canada Allan Cup final and they advanced by the shutout route, holding the Leafs scoreless in all three games. They won the first, 1 to 0, and the second, 2 to 0.

Smoke-eaters deserved the win on the general run of play. The sterling goal of Duppis and the fast skating of Brennan were a constant source of worry to the Coast squad.

Leafs on the other hand missed opportunities galley wide, but were too young and lacked experience. The second game is scheduled for Calgary Saturday night.

Touring M.C.C. Team Bats Well

Adelaide, Australia, March 10.—The visiting M.C.C. were in fine form in the early stage of an exhibition cricket match against South Australia to-day and at the close of the day's play had scored 240 runs for four wickets. Edward Paynter knocked up sixty-two.

CURLERS FROM EDMONTON WIN

Cliff Manahan's Royals Capture Canadian Championship in Toronto Play

Toronto, March 10.—Canada's curling title was still in the west to-day, farther west than it has ever been, but two prairie teams had done their best to keep it from Edmonton's Royals. Only Saskatchewan nosed out a win over Cliff Manahan's title-bound Albertans in the seven-test MacDonald Brier trophy battle.

Following the second-place playoff, the MacDonald Brier Cup was presented and each member of the Alberta team received a pair of crest-engraved curling stones. Alberta and Saskatchewan rinks will compete in the Hamilton Brier next week.

How to Save B.C.'s Millions

By LIEUT. COLONEL R. ROSS NAPIER
(Formerly Department Commissioner)
No. VI.

Immediate steps should be taken for proper restriction of the erection, rental or purchase of buildings for government purposes, and to see that all such matters be brought within the purview of the Legislature, prior to the event, except in case of absolute emergency.

As the manner in which government buildings are constructed, has a very important bearing on superfluous personnel, I shall deal with the whole subject at the present time, rather than divide the subject into different heads.

I have already alluded to the growth of local departmental staffs, and, unfortunately, this has been catered to in the erection of government buildings, in ever-increasing measure as time goes on. None of these buildings is calculated to provide for modern administrative requirements and concentration of staff, but is planned to provide accommodation for separate departmental staffs. In the more substantial buildings any extensive alterations, with a view to collective administration, is barred by the exaggerated attention and space devoted to court rooms which are used twice a year for the Courts of Assize. In some cases, at very great expense, heating must be provided for the totally disproportionate cubic space of the court room, so that it may be used for the sitting of the County Court, once a month, although there may be more than half a dozen people present. In one building of which I have experience, heating for this purpose had to be kept up all the previous day and night, to provide even very moderate warmth, with corresponding fuel consumption. In other buildings separate accommodation is provided for the County Court, with further loss of space for administrative purposes.

It is not to be taken from these remarks that I desire to limit court accommodation to an extent which would be subversive of, or derogatory to, that dignity of procedure which is a very essential part of our judicial system. I merely desire to demonstrate that the attempt to provide, in one building, adequate court rooms and administrative offices for agency and, unfortunately, departmental, staffs, has meant that the important offices in daily use for the service of the public have had to be distributed in whatever space has been over which the elaborate court rooms have been provided for, with the adjoining jury, witness, and other rooms considered necessary. Unsatisfactory as the administrative accommodation may be for concentration of staff or even economy or convenience, under prevailing conditions, the available space has been provided at a cost far in excess of what would be required to provide greater space in a building constructed to permit of the greatest economy of administration. Constructed as they are, in too many cases, these government buildings have readily lent themselves to the vicious policy of separate staffs and, consequently, increased personnel. Another cause of serious loss to the province is that the manner of construction makes the buildings practically useless for any other purpose, so that, in the event of changing conditions in the province making the agency needless, or, on the other hand, the building becoming inadequate, the building is practically a dead loss. This means that an agency and staff may be retained although the need for it has gone, and that, in the other case, large sums will be expended in rentals of outside offices, with, once more, increase of personnel. Modern buildings erected at reasonable cost, could readily be made suitable for other purposes and disposed of, if occasion arose. They would also lend themselves readily to having any necessary addition made to the structure in the event of more space being required.

Before further heavy losses are incurred by the province, immediate steps should be taken to see that, in the future, no government building is erected except on definite lines of practical utility, definitely aimed at economy of administration on modern lines and concentration of staff. This would mean, at least, safeguarding the province against the erection of "white elephant" buildings at enormous cost, for local political purposes, as has occurred in the past. That the erection of buildings has been governed by political instead of administrative considerations, may readily be demonstrated by concrete examples.

Kamloops, to-day, is one of the most important administrative centres in the province. The government agency, land registry office and court room are in one building, but this building has, for many years, been hopelessly inadequate. The congestion in the land registry is almost unbearable, while other staffs have occupied jury and witness rooms which they have had to vacate to permit of the assize court sittings. The government is paying somewhere in the neighborhood of $5,000 per annum for accommodation outside the government agency building, which would more than capitalise an adequate building on modern administrative lines. Votes have been passed from time to time to provide the necessary accommodation, only to be allowed to lapse, and nothing has been done. Whether the retention of the power to distribute very considerable sums in the way of rentals, had anything to do with the failure to proceed with the necessary building, may, or may not, be a political mystery. What will be done eventually? In all probability a vote will be passed for additions to the present buildings, which will be calculated to provide accommodation for separate departmental staffs now outside the building, and, possibly, some extra space for the land registry office, and a splendid opportunity for the initiatory steps towards administrative economy will be lost. Before a dollar is spent, it should be ascertained if, for about the cost of many suggested alterations, a modern administrative building could be erected, providing for any local departmental officials, and concentrating one clerical staff to do the work of all departments, under the control of the government agent. The economy in staff effected by this arrangement would go far to capitalise the building, while the present building could be left for the necessary accommodation of the land registry and the courts. By additions to the buildings, all the expense would be incurred, but

Skeena Member For Inflation

Canada Could Issue More Money and Still Leave It Sound, He Says

Dr. H. C. Winch Prefers Party Men to Conflicting Jumble of Candidates

Canada should learn a lesson from the United States and issue sufficient new money for its needs. She could do this and still leave her money sound, Dr. H. C. Winch, Liberal, Skeena, said in the Legislature yesterday.

A solution for present conditions could not be found within the province, although measures to help reach the solution could be made, he said.

Dr. Winch could not agree that a non-party government would provide the way out of present troubles.

"I cannot agree with a principle of let who will run and then out of the jumble select a cabinet composed of men of entirely different views, ideas and ideals," he commented. "He does not see how such a group would be better than a group selected by a party leader of men whose ability and capacity he knew and who had experience behind them."

SEEKING REMEDY

While governments could not be held responsible for present conditions, it was the duty of governments to seek remedy. The trouble was material. It was not through difficulties of nature, flood, famine or disaster. Inadequate distribution rather than depression should be the term used. Consumers were willing and eager to work to secure the money to obtain the products which existed in abundance. Improvement in the circulation of money offered the remedy. No permanent solution would be found by taking money from those who had plenty to divide it evenly with those who had none. Efforts should be directed to put money into channels where it would be used to provide work and wages.

FOR FARMERS

Fair values for agricultural produce would help the situation, Dr. Winch thought, and in this connection he commended the plank of the Liberal Party to form a board of producers, consumers and dealers with this object in view.

Administrative costs must be kept within bounds, said the speaker. The income tax must be reformed. The 1 per cent tax on everybody was inhuman and cruel. He quoted one instance of a nurse receiving $60 a month who was the breadwinner for a family of eleven. Out of that, because she was single, 85 cents had to be deducted for the provincial government.

It is extremely unlikely that any economy in staff would be found. The money offered in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars, over three times the cost of the Kamloops buildings, although it should be stated that the latter building was erected at an earlier date. The former agency building at Vernon is still in use as a school. Administrative costs must be kept within bounds, said the speaker. The income tax must be reformed. The 1 per cent tax on everybody was inhuman and cruel. He quoted one instance of a nurse receiving $60 a month who was the breadwinner for a family of eleven. ## END THOSE HEADACHES

Fruit-a-ties
the quick,
sure way

"For two years I suffered continually from dizziness, headaches, weak stomach and bad nerves. I was very run-down and discouraged. Nothing seemed to do me any good. I tried 'Fruit-a-ties' more by accident than design, and I certainly wish I'd taken them earlier. They made me feel so well and happy that I wonder now if I ever was sick."

Fruit-a-ties . . . all drug stores

ment. It was an "unfair tax and must be modified," said the speaker.

"Taxation will not provide us with enough money to do the work necessary and start the wheels of industry," said the member. He was inclined to agree with the form of inflation advocated by the member for North Vancouver, in which new money would be backed by commodities.

References to President Roosevelt's inaugural address were made by the speaker. The President was insistent on sound money, but adequate money was being issued in the United States at the time that could be regarded as sound money. The speaker thought Canada might be well advised to consider following the example set by the United States and issue new money sufficient for its needs. The problem could not be solved within the province.

PRODUCTIVE WORK

Necessity of any public works undertaken being of a productive character was emphasized by the speaker.

Dr. Winch regretted there had been no information given to the House regarding what success had been attained by those who had gone prospecting and warned of the dangers of such a policy.

Regarding roads, he thought probably too much reconstruction had been done instead of reaching out to remote parts.

DEFENDS SOCIAL LEGISLATION

Dr. Winch took exception to Col. Nelson, speaker's criticism of social legislation. The speaker was proud of any part he had played in securing mothers' pensions and other social legislation. The Liberal Party, he thought, would be prepared to go to the country on that issue. If Conservatives liked to go to the country against it, that was their own business.

Sooke

The Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute met at Bremner's tea room on Tuesday afternoon with fourteen members present and Mrs. W. Black, president in the chair. Conveners appointed were: Mrs. P. Thornber and Mrs. W. Cairns, respectively, local and district conveners for public health and child welfare, and Mrs. G. A. Aceman, education. Mrs. S. MacLachlan and Mrs. J. D. Gordon will be invited to address the April meeting. An old-time dance will be held in Sooke Hall on April 1, with Mrs. H. Page and Mrs. Black as conveners. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. P. Noury and Mrs. Page.

A military five hundred card party will be held in Sooke Hall next Wednesday, under the auspices of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute.

Mrs. M. Paddock and Miss Gibson of Victoria, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sullivan.

Mrs. H. Dicks of Victoria is visiting her son, a daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dicks.
